REVISION HAS BUT TWO FOES IN ASSEMBLY

Adoption of Report of Committee Almost Unanimous.

ALL PRESBYTERIES MUST ACT LATER

Work of the Representatives in New York Not Final.

SUGGESTIONS FOR TEMPERANCE WORK

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, May 22.—With only two dissenting votes the report of the committee on creed revision was adopted by the Presbyterian general assembly this morning.

This action is not absolutely final, as, of the three parts into which the report is divided, there is only one, that known as the "supplementry statement," in which the general assembly could take final action. The other two parts of the report, known as the "dilatory statement" and the "brief statement of the reformed faith," before they become parts of the law of the church will have to be acted on favorably by two-thirds of the entire number of presbyteries in the general assembly.

The vote on the report of the committee was taken in the morning. In the afternoon, shortly before adjourning, the following statement, made by the Rev. Dr. D. Stuart Dodge, chairman of the standing committee on temperance, called forth great applause:

Differences Have Disappeared.

"My fathers and brothers," he said, "we are now on a different plane from which we were 24 hours ago. By the grace of God and our Lord Jesus Christ, who kept us in unanimity and entire harmony this forenoon, there are now no differences among us. We now have a creed, thank God, on which we can stand together henceforth, as a united church without discord, to go forward in the work for the Lord's cause."

The prospects of an interesting debate on creed revision filled the galleries solidly, and when the doors of the ground floor were opened all the seats not reserved for commissioners were occupied at once.

The Rev. Dr. Henry VanDyke, the moderator, said:

"The matter before us is a simple proposition. The assembly of 1901 appointed a committee to do a particular thing. What you have to pass on is not whether that certain thing should be done, but whether the committee has done it to your satisfaction."

Speeches Necessarily Short.

On motion of the Rev. Dr. David G. Wylie speeches on the report were limited to 10 minutes, except that of the committee chairmen.

The Rev. Dr. James D. Moffat moved the adoption of the 11 overtures to be sent to the presbyteries.

The Rev. Dr. Henry C. Minton took up the various points on which the committee had been asked to pass. "Regarding the pope of Rome," he said, "the confession distinctly says the pope is the anti-Christ and the son of perdition. Now, if that was true and if we want to say it—let it stand. If not true, or if true and we do not wish to say it, take it out. I may believe that the pope is anti-Christ on general principles. I am quite willing to declare in the face of the Vatican or the whole world, for that matter, that the pope, using the crown rights of Jesus Christ, is anti-Christ and the son of perdition."

The Rev. Dr. Minton resented the accusation brought that the Presbyterian church believed in infant damnation.

Wrong Interpretation Given.

"The critics and enemies of the Presbyterian church," he said, "have rolled it under their tongues as a sweet morsel that we believe in infant damnation. We resent the accusation that this chapter contemplates any such interpretation." Dr. Minton was loudly applauded when he closed.

The Rev. Dr. Moffat urged the assembly to decide the question quickly by a vote to adopt.

The Rev. Fleming G. Bailey of Kissimmee, Fla., opposed revision. He said: "I have never found any difficulty with the old standards. They have lighted the way for me and mine across the river, all the way. I feel that this revision is but the entering wedge, and how far it will go no one can tell." Here the speaker broke down and wept.

The question was then put and the resolution, ordering the report published, was carried, with only two dissenting votes.

The motion for adoption of the supplementary statement was made by Dr. Minton and seconded by the Rev. Dr. Howard Duffield of the Old First Presbyterian church of this city.

Dr. Holmes Makes a Plea.

Dr. Richard S. Holmes of Pittsburgh said he represented the conservative element of the church. He said he had only voiced the sentiment of that element when he asked the assembly for the unanimous adoption of the supplementary report.

The entire report was adopted and the session was closed with an impressive devotional service.

At the afternoon session the Rev. Dr. D. Stuart Dodge, as chairman of the standing committee on temperance, presented the report of that committee. It was suggested that the general assembly, through the permanent committee on temperance, memorialize congress to enact laws prohibiting the sale of liquors in the soldiers' homes, United States public buildings and immigration stations. Grateful note was made of the passage of the anti-canteen law, the Lodge-Gillett bill and the passage of the scientific temperance in the public schools.

PATIENT WIFE IS FORCED TO KILL HUSBAND

Tragedy at Esplen Last Night Was Murder of Joseph Pearson.

HE TRIED TO KILL HIS WIFE LOUISE

While defending herself from being hacked to pieces with a hatchet, Mrs. Louise Pearson shot and killed her husband, Joseph Pearson, last night at 9:30 in their home in Second street, Esplen borough. Her husband made an angry assault on her with a hatchet. She drew a revolver from her dress and shot him in the right cheek. The bullet took an upward course and entered his brain, killing him instantly.

Mrs. Pearson lived in the house with her son and daughter. She is a quiet and industrious woman. Pearson was a horse dealer, and had an overbearing nature. He had threatened to kill his wife many times. Mrs. Pearson was placed under arrest by Constable W. R. Tyler. She was not committed to jail, as the officer consented to remain with her during the night at her home.

Pearson Was a Wanderer.

Pearson had not been living regularly with his wife for almost 10 years. He had been in the habit of leaving her alone with their children for months at a time. On Christmas he returned for the first time in months. He told them he had been in Kansas City and had been buying stock for western horse dealers.

He left a few days later, and nothing was heard of him until March. Then he came home again. This time he said he had been in St. Louis. During these visits he was very ill-natured and overbearing with his wife and children. He gave no reason for being so with them, and they were at a loss to know his motive for doing so. He never supported them.

He left his family again and went to St. Louis. Nothing was then heard of him until last Wednesday, when his son, Harry A. Pearson, received a letter from him saying that he would be at home on Friday. He returned yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock. Mrs. Pearson was at home alone. Her husband abused her and threatened to kill her. About 5 o'clock his son returned home from work. His father started to annoy him with his complaints.

Acted Ugly and Ill-Tempered.

Harry paid no attention to him and asked him to go down the street with him. His father refused to do this. He also refused to remain home for supper. His son then succeeded in persuading him to accompany him down the street. He offered to pay his father's board and lodging at a hotel if he would only leave his mother alone. This was also refused by the ill-tempered parent.

About 9 o'clock the father and son returned home. Mrs. Pearson and her daughter were in the kitchen at the time. Pearson remained on the front porch for a short time and then went into the kitchen. He started to abuse his wife. She paid no attention to him, only asking him to keep quiet and leave her alone, as she had done nothing to him.

Pearson passed out on the back porch and remained there for a few minutes. Then picking up a hatchet he dashed suddenly into the room. With an oath on his lips he told his wife that he was going to kill her. Their son jumped to interfere with his father just as Mrs. Pearson calmly pulled a revolver from her pocket, pointed the weapon at her husband and shot him.

Mrs. Pearson Says She Had to Kill.

The bullet entered the brain. Pearson fell on the floor and the hatchet dropped from his hands. Mrs. Pearson sat on a chair and told her son to get a physician as soon as possible. Dr. James A. Williams was soon in the house but the man was dead. Mrs. Pearson summoned Constable W. R. Tyler and gave herself up.

When a Gazette reporter called at the house last night she was grieving over her action. She said that she was compelled to commit the murder, however, to save her life. She said her husband had done nothing to maintain his family and that she was supported by her son.

THE RECENT FIANCEE OF SIGNOR MARCONI WEDS ANOTHER MAN

Miss Josephine Holman Becomes the Bride of a Wealthy Hungarian.

ENGLISH CHURCH WEDDING

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, May 22.—Miss Josephine Holman of Indianapolis, who was recently engaged to marry Signor William Marconi, the wireless telegraph inventor, was wedded today to Eugene Boross of Budapest, Hungary, in St. Mary Abbot's church, Kensington. The ceremony took place at 12:30 o'clock in the presence of the bride's mother and a few friends.

Miss Holman, who was married in a light traveling costume, was given away by her mother. Baron Victor Schley was the best man. The honeymoon will be passed on the continent.

Miss Holman is a daughter of the late Justice J. A. Holman of the Indiana supreme court and a niece of the late Congressman Holman, who was known as "The Watchdog of the Treasury." She is a woman of exceeding beauty of face and figure. She and her mother are possessed of a comfortable fortune and spend much of their time abroad.

Miss Holman was to have been married last January to Signor Marconi. At that time he went to New York, and Miss Holman traveled from Liverpool to meet him. An almost immediate wedding was expected, when the public was surprised by the announcement, on January 22, that the engagement had been broken off. No explanation was ever given except that Signor Marconi was too much attached to his inventive work.

To escape the gossip which followed, Miss Holman and her mother took ship for this country. On the ship she made the acquaintance of Herr Boross. It is said to have been a case of quick love and an engagement was entered into soon after the voyage ended.

Herr Boross is a Hungarian of great wealth. His home is in Budapest and he owns large estates in Hungary. He is a great traveler, and has made two long visits to the United States. He is a handsome man, of pleasing address and speaks half a dozen languages.

New Baptist Edifice Can Now Be Dedicated Free of Debt—Surprise for Congregation.

GIFTS TOTAL $150,000

The Rev. George T. Street, pastor of the Baptist church of Braddock, yesterday received a check from Charles M. Schwab, president of the United States Steel Corporation, for $5,000, to be added to the building fund of the new church, which is being erected by the Baptists at Talbot avenue and Seventh street, Braddock, at a cost of $20,000. The announcement will come as a surprise to the congregation, as the secret was being kept until the dedication.

The congregation is composed principally of employes of the Carnegie mills and expects to dedicate the new church during the second week in June. The Rev. Dr. Russell Conwell of the Tabernacle, Philadelphia, will preach the sermon. The church will contain a $5,000 pipe organ, a gift from Andrew Carnegie, and, as a result of Mr. Schwab's gift, the building will be dedicated free of debt.

President Schwab's contribution yesterday makes a total of $150,000 that he has given to Braddock churches, as follows: St. Thomas' Catholic, where he was married, $70,000; St. Mary's Protestant Episcopal, a memorial erected for his wife's mother, Mrs. Mary E. KILLED WHILE TRYING TO SAVE BROTHER'S LIFE

John Donlin, of Hazelwood, Was Shot Down by James Bucsinci.

FELL DYING ON HIS MOTHER'S DOORSTEP

John Donlin, a young man of Hazlewood, was killed last night by James Bucsinoi, a Hungarian, while protecting his brother. Donlin was shot down in the rear of his mother's home, No. 15 Acorn street, Twenty-third ward, at 8:45 o'clock and died an hour afterwards. He staggered to his mother's doorway and fell there, after being shot.

The murder grew out of a quarrel between the Hungarian and Donlin's two brothers, Patrick and James. The murdered man lived at No. 7 Forward street, in the vicinity of his mother's home. He was employed as driver for a Penn avenue bottler, and was passing near his mother's house when he was attracted by Bucsinoi quarreling with his brother Patrick. The quarrel had started some time before.

James said that he had ordered the Hungarian out of his yard, and when he refused to go, ejected him. The Hungarian went away and came back directly, armed with a 32-caliber revolver.

Peacemaker Was Killed.

The dispute was renewed and was in progress when John Donlin approached. It is said that the Hungarian was knocked down by James Donlin and he then drew his gun.

John Donlin caught his wrist and was trying to lead him away when the Hungarian freed his hand and turned the weapon on him. He fired one shot, the bullet taking effect in Donlin's left breast, near the heart. Donlin staggered backwards, toward his mother's house, and fell on his face in the doorway.

James caught Bucsinoi and held him until Officer Patrick Hennigan arrived. The policeman took the Hungarian in custody and walked him down to the patrol box at Greenfield and Second avenues. The officer and prisoner were followed by a crowd, in which were a number of the murdered man's friends.

Lynching Was Threatened.

The crowd pressed close to the prisoner and cries of "Lynch him" were heard. Several blows were struck at Bucsinoi, and Thomas Webb of Frazier street, who was in the crowd, was placed under arrest. Bucsinoi was first taken to No. 10 police station in Hazlewood, which is only a wagon station, but was removed soon afterwards to No. 4 station in Oakland, as the officers feared that Donlin's friends might attempt to avenge the murder. Knots of men were gathered near the station and the situation had become critical. After the murderer had been removed the crowds dispersed.

Donlin was 28 years of age and married. He leaves his wife and two children, one of which is but two weeks old. His murderer is about 25 years of age and single. He lived with his brother at No. 57 Greenfield avenue and worked at the Jones & Laughlins furnace.

MRS. M'KINLEY WINS.

Her Indorsement of a Postmaster Outweighed the Politicians.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 22.—(Special.)—President Roosevelt appointed to office today the only man indorsed by Mrs. William McKinley, when he sent to the senate the nomination of Thomas B. Flattery to be postmaster of Wooster, O. Flattery was appointed four years ago by President McKinley, who made the selection out of deference to the personal wishes of his wife, Flattery being a blood relation of Dr. Phillips, her physician. Flattery did not have the indorsement of the politicians in his city.

When his term was about to expire ex-Representative Smyser and other influential Republicans of Wayne county indorsed the chairman of the county committee for the position and urged Senators Hanna and Foraker to ask for his appointment as postmaster. Realizing that his chance for a second term was in danger, Flattery appealed to Mrs. McKinley.

MANY REFUGEES ARE FENCED IN BY LAVA WALLS

In Plain Sight of Those Who Are Helpless to Rescue Them, Women and Children Plead Vainly for Deliverence.

LOUD EXPLOSIONS STILL REND MONT PELEE VOLCANO

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]
(Copyright, 1902, by the New York Herald Co.)

Pointe-a-Pitre, Guadeloupe, May 22.—Mont Pelee continues to menace the existence of the entire island of Martinique. Without cessation it has been in eruption since Monday. A new crater has opened on the north side of the volcano, and from this lava pours in a broad stream down to the sea. This crater probably is the result of the terrific explosion that occurred Tuesday morning, when the pent-up forces seemed to rend the mountain from base to summit.

It is now known that there has been further loss of life, and what is more distressing, a large number of persons, mostly women and children, are imprisoned by the lava streams which surround them. It is impossible for assistance to be rendered to them by human beings, and nothing less than a miracle can save them from the awful death which confronts them.

These unfortunates are at Grande Riviere. They were cut off from escape when Mont Pelee resumed its labors Monday. The lava that burst from the volcano swept away all the roads, filled the river channels so that it set the bridges afloat, carrying them upon its surface until they were consumed; and reaching the sea coast, spread through the crevasses a bubbling mass so hot as to be almost incandescent.

Pleading in Vain for Deliverance.

In this way have the women and children at Grande Riviere been surrounded. Efforts have been made to reach them, and though they can be seen pleading for deliverance it is impossible to give them aid. Their supply of food is limited, if not wholly exhausted, and starvation, if not a more terrible fate, confronts them.

Gradually but steadily the rivers of lava are spreading, and if the eruption increases a wave of molten material will sweep away the doomed victims.

Usine Vive has been destroyed, as has Le Carbet, where 20 soldiers perished. Many inhabitants of the village also are believed to be lost, but it is impossible to tell the number.

In all Martinique, the conditions are impossible to describe. Although Pelee has been less ugly since Tuesday, it still presents an appearance that is far from assuring. Gun-like reports are heard at irregular intervals, and after each report the mountain top trembles, while from some cleft in the summit pours a fresh stream of lava. Believing that the island is doomed, the population continues in a state of pitiful panic. Just as fast as possible they are leaving on ships. They do not care where they go. All that they ask is a means of leaving the place they have come to regard as an inferno.

Relief for Refugees Needed.

Six hundred refugees have arrived here on the Salvador. Two hundred more are expected soon. Those who are here are in a sad state of poverty. Many are almost naked, and not one has brought more than the clothes he wears. Among the homeless ones are many too old or too young to care for themselves. Some are orphans whose parents were victims of the rage of Pelee. A relief committee has been formed here and the authorities are doing their utmost to relieve the distress. Free rations have been distributed but the supplies will not last long. It is probable that some of the provisions intended for Martinique will come here.

Fears are prevalent that a pestilence will result from the bodies that float ashore on all the islands. Scores of burned and lacerated bodies have floated ashore on Marie Gallante island, south of here. They are being buried and precautions have been taken to prevent an outbreak of disease.

FEARLESS EXPLORERS ARE COURTING DEATH

A Martinique Legislator Tells of His Partial Ascent of Mont Pelee.

Scientists on the Ground.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

FORT DE FRANCE, MARTINIQUE, May 22.—A correspondent has had an interview with M. Clerc, a member of the legislature of Martinique, who recently explored the vicinity of Mont Pelee. He said:

"I started last Friday for Mont Pelee by the road leading along the coast from Basse Pointe, and, accompanied by Telliame Chancele, chief engineer of the sugar works, I reached a height of 1,235 meters without difficulty. In order to make known our presence at the point where we stood I waved a piece of white cloth, attached to a stick, in the air, which was replied to by a corresponding signal from an inhabitant of Morne Rouge.

"We felt a number of electric commotions and our shoes were damaged by the heat. The pond which was situated near Morne le Croix is completely dried up. The iron cross which stood at the foot of the mountain has been melted.

Picked Up Hot Sulphur.

"The rims of the crater have very much changed; the heat where we stood was intense, and the whole aspect of the mountain was terrifying. Stones fell around us, and we picked up large pieces of sulphur, which we were unable to retain. The whole spot was charged with electricity, which became so violent that we were obliged to retreat.

"Our descent from the mountain was more difficult than our ascent. A blinding rain of ashes fell upon us and the engineer was nearly killed by a large stone, which fell near him. We succeeded in reaching Basse Pointe after having been four hours on the mountain under the most dangerous circumstances."

The recent rains of ashes and volcano rocks which have fallen here caused so much consternation among the inhabitants that those who have not left the city are eager to do so, and large numbers are emigrating to the island of Guadeloupe, where, it is now estimated here, 1,200 people from Martinique already have sought shelter.

The French cruiser Suchet reports that Morne Rouge has been entirely abandoned. The French gunboat Joffroy took on board about 150 of the inhabitants of the neighborhood of Le Carbet.

The United States steamer Potomac went to inspect St. Pierre, with the commanders of the war vessels now here. With the greatest difficulty the party succeeded in making a landing. The effects of the outburst of yesterday were tremendous. The huge basilic towers of the cathedral were hurled flat to the earth. The bombardment of volcanic stones is not sufficient to account for this, and all evidences point to the passage of a furious blast of blazing gas, traveling at enormous speed and with incalculable force. The deposit of boulders, ashes and angular stones is enormous. Not a human being saw what happened at St. Pierre yesteerday morning.

Throwing Out Yellow Whirlwind.

Volcanic activity has not ceased. Vast columns of smoke and gas still pour from the great crater; new fissures have opened on the mountainsides and are throwing yellow whirlwinds, which rush intermittently now from one point and now from another. Boiling mud also is thrown out at times in torrents that reach the sea and produce small tidal waves. From a sombre, silent city of death and desolation, St. Pierre has become a hideous amphitheater of fiery, roaring destruction.

The people are convinced that God is angry with the island and means to scourge it with fire and then sink it in the ocean. Utter and unreasoning fear possesses all souls. The presence of the relief ships, however, is helpful to the people, who say "The American flag makes safety."

The Potomac could not approach close to St. Pierre. The Dixie will sail tomorrow for St. Vincent, but the other vessels will remain.

The scientists who have arrived will examine into the question of the danger of the peaks of Carbet, near Fort de France, becoming active volcanoes. The latest outburst probably means a ruined island, as all confidence is lost.

MAY ABANDON ISLAND.

French Government Cables to Martinique Governor to Ascertain if the Step Is Necessary.

PARIS, May 22.—The government is considering the possibility of the necessity arising for the evacuation of Fort de France, and even of the whole island of Martinique. The ministers do not believe that any such emergency will arise, but they are taking all the necessary measures to meet it if it does.

The minister of the colonies, M. Decrais, cabled a message to Gov. Lheurre yesterday, asking if the situation in the island seems to require the step.

TO VISIT SCENE OF DISASTER.

Pittsburghers Patronize Excursions to Martinique and St. Vincent.

Many Pittsburghers will visit Martinique in the next few months. Soon after the disaster at St. Pierre hundreds of anxious inquiries came to the offices of local steamship agents and since the excursions to the ill-fated isle have started Pittsburghers have taken advantage of them.

The next boat to sail for St. Pierre on which Pittsburgh people will go is the Korona of the Quebec Steamship Company, which leaves New York next Wednesday morning. Dr. H. B. Cartwright, a prominent East End physician, with his wife and son Harry, will make the trip. The trip going will require about seven days and about two days will be spent in visiting the ill-fated island. The ship will land in the harbor of Martinique near St. Pierre.

Several Pittsburghers who intended to make the excursion at this time have postponed their trip until later in the season on account of the danger from still active Mont Pelee.

Beside visiting Martinique the members of the excursion party on the Korona will have a chance to visit the isle of St. Vincent, where the volcano Soufriere is in eruption. On the return trip the new American islands of St. Croix and St. Thomas will be visited.

The first steamer on which Pittsburghers might go to the land of lava and cinders is the San Juan, which leaves New York tomorrow morning.

After the Wednesday boat on the Quebec line the next available steamer is the Trinidad, sailing July 3.

APPEAL FOR AID WITHDRAWN.

Red Cross Will Hold Funds Now in Hand for Future Emergencies.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 22.—John M. Wilson, vice president of the American National Red Cross, has issued this statement:

Information having been received through the department of state from the American consulates at Martinique and St. Vincent, W. I., that the supplies already furnished for the relief of sufferers from the recent volcanic disturbances in the islands are sufficient for present necessities, that adequate measures are being taken by the French, English and local authorities for the supply of future needs, and that further contributions by the people of the United States are unnecessary, the appeal of the American National Red Cross for aid for the victims of the disaster is hereby withdrawn.

Altoona Victims of Mont Pelee.

ALTOONA, PA., May 22.—(Special.)—Miles Bartow of this city has received word that the family of his brother, Bernard, a former Altoonian, consisting of a wife and three children, were among the unfortunates who perished in the eruption of Mont Pelee. The family's residence in the island was required by Mr. Bartow's business interests. He was in the United States at the time of the disaster.

MASKED MINERS TRY TO LYNCH NON-UNION MAN

The Intended Victim Rescued With the Rope Around His Neck.

QUIET AT WILKESBARRE

Members of Committees of Anthracite Workers' Organization Held a Short Session but Did Not Take Any Radical Step.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Pottsville, Pa., May 22.—New Philadelphia was the scene early this morning of the first violence attempted upon the part of the miners in this region since the big strike was inaugurated.

Twenty masked miners entered the miners' boarding-house at that place kept by Mrs. Carolina Fogerty, about 1:20 o'clock. They were armed and gained an entrance by breaking a window, seizing as a victim a non-union miner, Thomas Cressen, aged 22, who, up to the time the colliery closed, was employed as a loader at the Silver Creek colliery. Cressen was taken from his bed, bound hand and foot, and a rope was placed about his neck.

He was lowered from an upper window, several shots being fired to intimidate the other boarders. Cressen was saved from the terrible fate which awaited him by some friends in the lower story pulling him into their window and cutting the rope. Finding that their victim had escaped them the masked miners dispersed. Coal and iron police are trying to find Cressen's assailants and a number of arrests are expected.

Will Protect Their Mines.

The local corporations today made a move in the direction of protecting their mines. The St. Clair local company has sworn in 25 special policemen. Should the pump men carry out their threats and go out on June 2, operators are determined to fill their places to prevent the collieries being drowned out. Many of the striking hard coal miners are leaving the anthracite region for the bituminous section. Fully 1,000 miners and car shop employes have gone from Pottsville and vicinity in the last few days to seek work elsewhere.

WILKESBARRE, PA., May 22.—The 10th day of the anthracite coal miners' strike passed off very quietly, not a single incident developing which would in any way tend to change the present situation. The members of the committees went into session shortly after 10 o'clock and in less than half an hour a recess was taken until 1:30 p. m.

It was nearly 2:30 o'clock, however, when the district leaders were again called together, but before all of them could get up to the meeting room final adjournment was announced and most of the members of the three committees immediately left for their respective homes.

Reticent About Meeting.

The three district presidents are still here. Mr. Mitchell said that at the morning session the committees took up general business in connection with the suspension, but he did not care to say what the nature of it was.

SHAMOKIN, PA., May 22.—The Mineral Mining and Railroad Company posted notices today announcing that employes now on strike would be paid in full tomorrow and Saturday. Individual operators will also square up accounts with the miners. Mine superintendents say they will man the pumps at any cost after June 2 if the firemen go on strike.

READING, PA., May 22.—The Reading Company has about 6,000 of its cars in the bituminous trade and the volume of coal that is now coming in from these regions, both in Pennsylvania and Virginia, is unprecedented. Many of the trains from the west are made up principally of soft coal. Much is also coming down from the Clearfield regions. Not a pound of anthracite coal is passing through Reading.

Coal Prices Advanced.

NEW YORK, May 22.—Retail coal dealers here have advanced the price of anthracite coal to a maximum of $8 50 a ton, and at the same time marked up bituminous coal to $4 50 a ton, when purchased in small quantities. To consumers of large quantities of soft coal a rate of $3 8[illegible] was quoted.

Only once have these prices for fuel been exceeded. That was in 1871, when the price of anthracite coal reached a maximum of $11 a ton.

TAMAQUA, PA., May 22.—A marching column of 200 striking miners this morning closed the Smith and Meyers washery. Trouble was averted by the operators anticipating the demonstration and closing down before the strikers arrived at the place. They promised the marchers not to resume until the strike was ended.

ELECTED TO YALE SOCIETIES.

Two Pittsburghers and Two Alleghenians Among the Lucky Juniors.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., May 22.—(Special.)—There were many surprises in the list of prominent juniors of Yale university who were passed by today in the elections to the exclusive senior society's Skull and Bones, Scroll and Key and Wolf's Head. Elevation to one of the societies is the social ambition of the scions of the richest and most exclusive families represented at Yale.

The "tap day" ceremonies, always interesting and unique, were made more curious today by the fact that the men elected were forced into almost a run to their rooms by the electors, who singled them out one by one in a crowd of more than 1,000 standing at the historic fence, by the mystic formula, "Go to your room," accompanying it by a hard slap on the back. Howard A. Plummer, Jr., the crack tennis player, was slapped by Reginald Claypool Vanderbilt, and the election met with universal favor. Clive L. Duval of Brooklyn, son of Col. Duval, was slapped by Henry Sherman, George B. Chadwick, captain of the football team, was elected to "Bones." Charles Hitchcock, Jr., the golf crack, went to Wolf's Head. Among the elections were:

Skull and Bones, Donald Thompson, Allegheny; Scroll and Key, William Frew, Pittsburgh; Wolf's Head, Harry W. Dupuy, Allegheny; Augustus K. Oliver, Pittsburgh.

NEGRO IS BURNED ALIVE IN TEXAS

PAYS FOR DASTARDLY CRIME WITH A HORRIBLE DEATH.

Crowds Tortured the Victim While Others Clamored for a Longer Period of Agony—Faggots Set on Fire by Husband of Assaulted Woman.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONGVIEW, TEX., May 22.—A man hunt, which has been in progress since Saturday, ended today in the burning at the stake of Dudley Morgan, a negro, who assaulted Mrs. McKee, wife of a Texas & Pacific section foreman at Lansing.

When it was learned that the negro had been captured and was being taken to Lansing for identification the excitement of the people knew no bounds. By 11 o'clock this morning great throngs had gathered at the Lansing switch and arrangements were made to burn the negro. Just before 11 o'clock the train bearing the prisoner and his captors arrived at Marshall and was met by a great crowd. Many boarded the train at Hallville, and when it arrived at Lansing every available place on it was occupied.

The prisoner was identified by Mrs. McKee and several negroes who worked on the section with Morgan, and then, escorted by about 200 men, armed with Winchesters, was taken to the place of execution. As he was chained to the stake he confessed the crime and made a statement, implicating another negro named Franklin Heard, saying that Heard was to get part of the money which was to be stolen.

After he had been securely chained to the rail with his hands and legs free, Section Foreman McKee, the husband of the woman assaulted, applied the match to the faggots. The mob held the red hot and burning cinders to the negro's neck and after burning his clothes off, to other parts of his body. He was tortured deliberately and slowly while the crowd clamored for a slow death and the negro, writhing and groaning, begging piteously to be shot.

Mrs. McKee was brought to the scene in a carriage, accompanied by four other women, and an effort was made to get the carriage close enough for her to see the negro. The crowd was so dense, however, that this was impossible.

Persons held each other on their shoulders, taking turns looking at the awful sight. The negro's head finally dropped and the ties were piled around and over him. In half an hour only the trunk of his body remained.

ONE DEATH CAUSED BY YESTERDAY'S HEAT

Three Prostrations Were Also Reported and Mercury Soared to 89 Degrees.

Yesterday's temperature almost reached the high mark for the year, made last Monday, when the mercury recorded a maximum temperature of 92 degrees. One death and three prostrations resulted and much suffering among the employes in the big mills and factories in and about Pittsburgh. The death reported from the excessive heat was that of Anthony Ruska, a Slav, employed as a helper at the Edgar Thomson furnaces of the Carnegie Steel Company at Braddock. Ruska had been working in the cast house at the furnaces and drank considerable water during the morning. Shortly after noon he was seized with a violent attack of cramps and died about an hour later. He was 40 years old and boarded in Washington street, Braddock.

Nellie Williams of Juniata street, Allegheny, was overcome at Fourth avenue and Smithfield street during the afternoon. She was removed to the Homeopathic hospital and later taken to her home. Her condition is not thought to be serious.

John Drubb, 40 years old, a stone mason of North Braddock, was prostrated while working at the place of Dr. S. H. McGeary in Wilkins township yesterday afternoon. He was rendered unconscious, in which condition he remained for some time and last night his condition was said to be serious.

Elmer Tibbs, a carpenter, 22 years old, of McKeesport, while working on a house near Wilmerding, was overcome by the heat and fell from the roof of the building. His right arm and collar bone were broken and he was otherwise badly bruised.

Gen. Booth to Visit America.

NEW YORK, May 22.—The annual congress of the Salvation Army is in session here. Commander Booth Tucker announced today that the commander-in-chief, Gen. William Booth, would visit this country in October next.

The wet weather is only expected to remain over today, as the forecast states that tomorrow will be fair. The maximum temperature yesterday was 89 degrees, just 8 degrees higher than on Wednesday. At 8 o'clock last night, before the thunder storm arrived, the mercury was at 85 degrees. There was .35 inches of rainfall last night.

VOTING CLOSES AT MIDNIGHT, JUNE 7.

This BALLOT cut from The Pittsburgh Gazette
of FRIDAY, May 23, 1902.
If received at our office before MIDNIGHT OF JUNE 7,
Counts ONE VOTE for

SERIES L
1 VOTE.

Name..

School..

Town.......................... County..............

For the EUROPEAN TOUR tendered to 25 most popular School Teachers by

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE and CHRONICLE TELEGRAPH.

Send all ballots to Excursion Department, Pittsburgh Gazette and Chronicle Telegraph. Ballots not legibly filled out will not be counted. Last ballot will be printed May 31, 1902. Ballots from Sunday Gazette count three votes.

ALL BALLOTS MUST BE IN BY MIDNIGHT, JUNE 7.

NO ONE CAN GUESS THE WINNERS.

Soon the teachers' contest for the grand tour of Europe will close. No person knows who will be the winners, but everyone wants to know. The important announcement can be made soon after June 7, if our friends will be prompt about sending in their ballots. Some of them are. They are sending in as fast as they get them. To such we are duly grateful. Some appear to be holding back. We hope they will not continue that policy. If all will send in their ballots of the two series, K and L, every two or three days, the enumerators will be able to keep right up with the work of counting. Then, when the voting closes, the totals can be speedily footed up and the winners announced. The motto now should be to "vote early and often," and it is no more difficult than to accumulate huge bundles of ballots before voting at all.

SHIRAS IS ASKED TO RUN AGAINST WILLIAM GRAHAM

Scheme Is to Make a Fight for Congress and Northside Delegates.

ALLEGHENIAN THINKING

It Is Not Probable That Mr. Shiras Will Enter the Contest—Ex-Mayor Kennedy Will Then Be Requested to Become a Candidate.

George Shiras III. has been asked to become a candidate for congress against William H. Graham in the Republican primaries to be held June 7. If he consents to run there will also be a contest for state delegates in the two Allegheny legislative districts and in the Seventh district. His answer is to be given today or tomorrow, and it will probably be a refusal to enter the fight.

In case Mr. Shiras declines it is probable that ex-Mayor William M. Kennedy wil be asked to enter the field. An opponent is wanted for Mr. Graham, as the anti-Elkin men think it would make the fight for delegates easier. Whether or not there will be a contest for delegates, if a candidate for congress cannot be found, is a matter for the future.

Just who is back of the proposed fight on the North Side does not appear to be exactly clear. Francis J. Torrance, who is considered the Quay leader over them, and would naturally be supposed to take charge if the senator wanted to fight Recorder Murphy and S. C. Grier for the state delegates, says that he has nothing to do with the contest.

Mr. Torrance's Attitude.

Mr. Torrance can see no reason for a contest in Allegheny for delegates. He will be a district delegate in his ward and will vote to elect the Murphy state delegates. This would indicate that Mr. Torrance has sufficient reason for believing that the present state in Allegheny is a safe one to elect, and that the delegates will not wander away from their usual fold at the coming Harrisburg convention. One of the state delegates is a cousin of Senator Quay.

George Shiras III. returned to the city yesterday after an absence of several weeks. He said last night that he had been requested to become a candidate against Mr. Graham. He remarked that he had taken a day to consider the matter, but it was probable that he would not be a candidate.

Graham is a close personal, business and political friend of Gov. Stone. This friendship would not count, however, if Graham had a fight of his own. He would then look after his personal interests.

It is understood that if there is a fight for state delegates there will be no attempt made to defeat the present slated candidates for assembly in Allegheny.

Will Try to Get Kennedy.

Ex-Mayor Kennedy of Allegheny now lives in Sewickley. It is said that if Mr. Shiras declines to run Mr. Kennedy will be offered an opportunity to defeat Graham. Friends of Mr. Kennedy say that he will not go into the fight.

Recorder Brown has about abandoned his plan of attempting to have all the state delegates in the county sign a pledge to agree to the unit rule. His efforts in Allegheny were fruitless. Nevertheless, the delegates from the Sixth district are being told that they are the only men who have not signed and that they should come in and make it unanimous.

The Citizens party management is inclined to give the Democrats four places on the county ticket. This includes one commissionership. There are 12 candidates to be nominated. The Democrats will probably insist upon more. They will also want to pick the places. The jobs they will insist upon are orphans' court judge, register, clerk of courts and commissioner. They will also want some places on the assembly ticket. J. J. Miller is said to be picked as the nominee for judge of the orphans' court. It is possible that the Democrats will demand both commissionerships and name James A. Clark and Patrick Foley.

A McKeesport Conference.

Thomas S. Bigelow, James W. Clark and James M. McKee held a pow-wow with about 50 McKeesport politicians at Soles' hall, McKeesport, last night. Attorney F. C. Jones was chairman of the meeting. Mr. Bigelow lead out a plan for the coming county fight. He said that it was his plan to secure 20 voters in every district, and with this start the Citizens party would quickly gain and win out in a walk.

After Bigelow's speech a general conference was held, each of those present expressing his views. It was also incidentally mentioned during the meeting that W. C. Soles would likely be a candidate on the Citizens ticket for county recorder.

Steamer John K. Speed Burned.

NEW ORLEANS, May 22.—The steamer John K. Speed, lying at her wharf at the foot of Lafayette street, took fire this afternoon, presumably from alcohol stored in the hold, and was quickly burned to the water line. The boat and cargo are a total loss. The wharf had taken fire and a large section was burned. The loss will be fully $75,000.

THE ROCHAMBEAU PARTY RECEIVED AT WHITE HOUSE

President Roosevelt Greatly Pleases by Addressing Them in French.

DINNER IN THE EVENING

Visit Paid to Mount Vernon, Where a Tree from Yorktown Is Planted and a Beautiful Wreath Is Laid Upon the Tomb of Washington.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., May 22.—Guests of the nation tonight are the representatives of France and of the Rochambeau and Lafayette families, sent to participate in the unveiling on Saturday of the statue of the distinguished commander of the French expeditionary forces in America during the revolution. The French mission reached here at 10 o'clock this morning from Annapolis, where the battleship Gaulois is lying. The booming of guns announced their arrival to the president and the capital.

Drawn up in line abreast, facing the Pennsylvania railroad station, was Troop G. Second cavalry, under the command of Capt. Ralph Harrison; and as the distinguished visitors made their appearance the swords sprang to their chins in salute. The mission was escorted to Washington by Third Assistant Secretary of State Pierce and Commander Rodgers, two members of the president's commission.

Greetings in the White House.

At the White House the visitors were escorted to the red room, where they met the civilian members of the mission, this being their first meeting. Gen. Brugere immediately greeted the ambassador and Mme. Cambon, who, with the Count and Countess de Rochambeau, Count de Lafayette and members of the French embassy, reached the White House about 10 o'clock.

Following the exchange of greetings the entire party was ushered into the east room, where they found waiting to receive them the president and Miss Roosevelt, Miss Carew, the secretary of state, the secretary of war and Mrs. Root, Miss Root, the postmaster general and Mrs. Payne, the secretary of the navy, the secretary of agriculture and Miss Wilson, the secretary to the president, Mrs. T. A. Bingham, Assistant Secretary and Mrs. Loeb, Gen. Horace Porter, ambassador to France; Surgeon General and Mrs. Rixey, Dr. John F. Urie, Admiral Dewey, Lieut.-Gen. and Mrs. Miles, Gen. and Mrs. Corbin, Rear Admiral and Mrs. Henry C. Taylor, Senator and Mrs. Wetmore, Miss Wetmore, Representative and Mrs. James McCleary.

The President Speaks in French.

The president delighted the visitors by his cordial reception, particularly by his addressing them in French. To Count de Rochambeau he gave assurance of his pleasure at meeting the descendants of the men who had fought so nobly in the cause of American liberty.

This afternoon the United States naval yacht Sylph took the party to Mount Vernon, where two interesting ceremonies occurred—the planting of a tree brought from the battlefield of Yorktown, where Rochambeau and Lafayette shared the fortunes of war with Washington, and the laying of a beautiful wreath upon the tomb of Washington.

President Roosevelt gave a dinner tonight to the French mission. The guests were received in the blue room, which was prettily decorated with ferns and palms and pink and white peonies. The dinner was served in the east room, where the color scheme of the decorations was entirely of green and white. The table was in the shape of a crescent. In the center of the room in the space thus left by a semi-circle was a mound of plants and ferns.

SIX ENCORES TO EACH NUMBER.

Rochester, N. Y., Highly Appreciates Duss' Band Music.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., May 22.—(Special.)—Duss' band opened a three days' engagement at the Lyceum tonight with an audience that filled every seat, gave the band leader a stirring reception and demanded six encores after every number.

Rochester made friends with the Economy organization two years ago at a summer engagement, and so great was the demand for seats this year that two extra concerts have been arranged for Saturday.

QUICK WORK SAVES THE SINGER HOME

The residence of George H. Singer, Fifth and Penn avenues, would have been destroyed by fire last night if it had not been for the prompt action of J. S. Speer, secretary of the Hussey Steel Company, and a friend, who were on a passing car. When opposite the Singer residence, they saw fire in an upper window. To see was but to act. They dropped off the car, ran up the long walk and pounded the door. No response. The door yielded when the knob was turned and without waiting for any ceremony they ran up stairs and soon had the fire out. The fire was caused by curtains being blown against a gas jet, and the damage was slight, except to the curtains.

BOXING BOUT MAY END IN NOONAN'S DEATH

Chelsea Boy Believed to Be Dying as Result of Blow From Eddie Dixon.

BOSTON, May 22.—"Tommy" Noonan of Chelsea is believed to be dying from concussion of the brain as a result of a blow received in a boxing contest with Eddie Dixon of Chicago at the Lenox A. C. tonight. Dixon gave himself up to the police.

The men met at catch weights for a six-round go and had nearly completed four rounds when the knockout blow was given. Noonan dealt Dixon a hard punch over the heart with his left. Quick as a flash Dixon responded with a right-hander on Noonan's jaw and the latter went to the floor, where he lay until counted out.

It was quickly seen that his condition was alarming and physicians in the hall hurried to his side. He was ordered removed to the City hospital.

Round Thread Voiles
Filmy Peau de Cygnes.

Two French sheer textures that are infinitely the most admired of the host of Summer weaves.

The new importation which came in day before yesterday contains some 3,000 yards, about half of which is made up of blue and its various shades.

Good news—for blue in these sheer stuffs is about as scarce as ten dollar bills in a collection basket. Dressmakers have been almost driven to distraction over the cry for blue. Most popular of prices for these new arrivals—$1.25, $1.50, $2 a yard.

With this shipment came also six colors and black in 44-inch NATTE VOILE—of which we ask an early inspection. The latest of the French productions. The new shades are robin-egg blue, biscuit, tea green, brown, silver gray, marine blue and black. The price is $1.25 a yard.

On round table under the dome today we will offer the popular cream white in 65c all wool Summer Serge and 65c all-wool Summer Tamise for the modest price of... 50c Yd.

Another offer will be all-wool Black Dress Bunting—table left rotunda—only 1,000 yards left—for half its regular price... 12½c Yd.

A Quartette of Silk Bargains for Today.

Some breakfast reading that will have a tendency to make women make a personal remark something like this: "I must get ready at once and go to Horne's. There's a big silk sale down there today."

None of these may suit you, but there are other equally good values throughout both departments.

We will offer all-silk Black Grenadines—stripe and broche effects—44-inch widths and $1 value, for 50c a yard.

We will offer Black Taffetas suitable to line gowns of this grenadine—guaranteed pure silk—bright and lustrous—at the special price of 35c a yard.

We will offer Printed Foulards and Printed Liberty Satins—22x27 inches wide—50c and 65c qualities—for 35c a yard.

We will offer remnants of Wash Silks in lengths of 3 to 4½ yards—the 45c grade for 25c a yard.

Women's Initialed Handkerchiefs 10c Each.

That's a wonderfully little price to pay for a good handkerchief—even without the initial.

But this is something unusual. First, the initial is in hand-embroidered open-work; second, the handkerchiefs are hemstitched—half-inch hems; third, they are sold underprice.

They came from Belfast, and are nice sheer goods.

A Little Bunch of Needfuls.

India Rubber Dressing Combs, 15c each. A broken line. Some were 20c, some 25c and 35c.

Whisk Brooms, 10c each. Rather a special value.

Scissors. A large importation just in from Germany—about 800 pairs. Real good scissors for which we charge you 50c a pair.

Women's Ribbed Underwear for the Hottest Weather.

Vests with low neck, vests with short sleeves, vests in all the new styles—such prices as 10c, 15c, 25c, 35c, 50c, 75, $1.

In fancy Vests, such as those with crocheted fronts and finished with effective lace trimming, we show eight styles at 50c, four styles at 75c, five styles at 85c.

Finer grades and more elaborate trimmings for $1.75 and in between up to $7.

Silk Mixed Vests—white, pink, blue, lavendar—best goods, are sold for 50c.

Pure Silk Vests in such a range as $1, $1.25, $1.50 and up to $3.75 each.

Fancy Silk Vests, $1.25 and up to $8.25 each.

Ribbed Cotton and Lisle Vests—without shoulder straps—35c, 50c, 75c, 85c, $1.25 each.

Union Suits of Cotton lisle, silk, silk mixtures and wool—from 50c up to $8.50.

Union Suits with all sorts of fancy trimming, $1.50 to $3.50 each.

Ribbed Top Drawers—no band—50c, $1, $1.75.

We make a specialty of black silk and lisle drawers for riding.

For inexpensive underwear for children this department prides itself on its extensive variety.

Riker's Perfumes and Toilet Specialties.

We have the sole agency for Pittsburgh, and carry all of Riker's preparations.

They are popular as any goods of this class on the market—and they contain and embody the best principles of scientific extraction.

We particularly recommend Riker's Violet Cerate for sunburn, redness, roughness, freckles and tan. No toilet delicacy quite so effective in softening or [illegible] so creamy, nor so deliciously scented. Porcelain Jars, 50c.

Ultimate Prizes in View Senatorships for Wanamaker and Guffey.

ELKIN THEIR ONLY HOPE

With the Attorney General Nominated, They Foresee the Defeat of Penrose—"Quayism" a Bogus Issue Raised to Conceal Real Program.

By CHESTER D. POTTER.
Staff Correspondent.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 22.—Attorney General Elkin is receiving cordial support from that part of the insurgent faction still controlled by the "Wanamaker influence." It is said by competent authority that this support is not only moral but financial.

That there has been a renewal of the Guffey-Wanamaker political compact, made in 1899, is more apparent every day. While "Quayism" is the ostensible reason assigned for the Wanamaker opposition to Judge Pennypacker in the present contest, the real motive is to defeat Senator Penrose for re-election and elect John Wanamaker as his successor. The nomination of Mr. Elkin is believed by the Wanamaker managers to be essential to the success of this scheme. With Pennypacker or Watres as the Republican nominee there would be no hope for fusion or for the realization of Wanamaker's ambition.

Hence the "practical" help from this source being received by Mr. Elkin. Col. Guffey's reward, in case he goes "along," is to be a Democratic governor and Quay's seat at the expiration of his term.

The Stone-Wanamaker Alliance.

Gov. Stone and the Wanamaker "interests" have clasped hands before in the present contest. They worked together successfully in Tioga county, where the stalwart Republican candidate for county chairman was defeated by ex-Representative Robert Young, insurgent. Mr. Young is the governor's chosen legal representative for the new capitol commission.

It was an expensive victory. Wanamaker is not so strong as he was four years ago. He has recently tried to reinforce himself and the statement that he will dictate the policy of the Record, quite generally accepted, was a step in this direction. The statement of Frank Riter, state chairman of the Union party, who warned the Unionists not to commit themselves to Judge Pennypacker or any other Republican candidate, was another move in the game.

It seems, however, that Mr. Wanamaker has waited too long to show his hand. A great majority of those who have been with him in the past are now openly committed to and working for Pennypacker.

Democratic State Chairman William T. Creasy was here today in conference with the members of the Ninth division, which comprises the counties of Philadelphia, Montgomery, Chester, Delaware and Bucks. It is the purpose to perfect an organization in all school districts. Monthly meetings were arranged.

Attorney General Elkin arrived here tonight.

West Chester Pennypacker Meeting.

A meeting in the interest of Judge Pennypacker, and to protest against the Chester county delegates voting for Elkin, was held at West Chester this evening in response to a call issued by the former Republican state chairman, Francis C. Hooten, and other Republicans. Speeches were made by Col. Hooten, Charles H. Pennypacker and Prof. Richard Darlington, anti-machine candidate for the legislature, and resolutions expressing the sentiment of the meeting.

Mayor Fred E. Lewis of Allentown is a full-fledged candidate for the Republican nomination for lieutenant governor. The mayor's friends have had interviews with Senator Quay, Attorney General Elkin, Gov. Stone and other state leaders, and they say Mr. Lewis' chances are bright. He will go into the convention with the solid support of the delegations from Lehigh, Berks, Northampton and Carbon, and possibly Lackawanna and Luzerne. In view of Mayor Lewis' candidacy, it is probable the Lehigh delegation will divide its vote on the governorship.

Registration for the Republican primaries on May 31 closed at Lebanon today and the announcement is made that the slate of the reunited Republican factions will be nominated almost without a contest. The leading candidates are M. E. Olmsted of Harrisburg, for congress; Prof. E. Benjamin Bierman of Annville and Dr. Thomas T. Zerb of Schaefferston, fos assembly.

He and His Bride Will Embark on the Yacht Endymion for Their Wedding Voyage.

GREENWICH, CONN., May 12.—(Special.)—The wedding of Miss Katherine Morgan Rowland and George Lauder, Jr., was solemnized at the house of the bride's parents this afternoon. The reception which followed was largely attended by those prominent in professional and business circles.

They wore pale yellow crepe de chine and carried bouquets of lavender, sweet peas and orchids.

TEACHERS WANT THE PRESIDENT

ROOSEVELT INVITED TO ADDRESS THEIR STATE ORGANIZATION.

They Will Be in Session at Alvin Theater, and a Program Has Been Suggested Whereby the Chief Executive Might Speak Before It Briefly.

The Pennsylvania State Teachers' association expects to have President Roosevelt as a guest of honor during the first hour of the final session of that body in the Alvin theater on the morning of July 4.

As soon as the presence of the president was assured for Pittsburgh the local executive committee of the association, which includes Superintendent Samuel Andrews of Pittsburgh, Superintendent John Morrow of Allegheny, Superintendent Samuel Hamilton of Allegheny county, Miss Nannie Mackrell, G. W. Cratz, H. W. Fisher and Edward Rynearson, petitioned the state executive committee to invite the chief magistrate to visit the convention and make a brief address.

The committee has asked for but a small fraction of President Roosevelt's time and anticipates no denial. The president is to arrive on the evening of July 3. As soon after breakfast the next day as practicable it is proposed that a committee from the association meet the president and escort him to the Monongahela house, where the exhibit of drawings by the school children of the state will be open for inspection. The president will then be escorted to the Alvin theater, greet the educators and be duly returned to the citizens' committee. The association will adjourn to participate in all exercises at Schenley park.

Precedent in the presence and address of the chief magistrate at the teachers' convention is cited by Prof. H. W. Fisher of the Washington schools, Lawrenceville. He was at Saratoga when the national teachers' convention was addressed by President Garfield. Quoting from memory, Mr. Fisher said yesterday that, among other things, Garfield uttered these words: "It is as much my duty as commander-in-chief of the army of the United States to review the army of peace of this great nation as to review the army of war before it leaves for battle."

WILL EXHUME BODY OF EDNA VARNER

Deputy Coroners and Physicians Will Make Another Examination Today.

This morning the remains of Edna Varner will be exhumed from the little cemetery near Petrolia and a careful examination will be made to still the last lingering doubt as to how many times she was shot. This is a formality necessitated by the declaration of the Petrolia physicians, who, after a superficial examination, announced that the dead girl had been shot three times. Dr. W. C. McCandless made the original post-mortem and testified before the coroner's jury that there was but one bullet hole.

The examination may have an important bearing on the case against Mrs. Eagle. The revolver with which the shooting is believed to have been done is a most important part of the circumstantial evidence against her, and but one shot was fired from it. If the girl was shot three times some other weapon must have been used.

District Attorney John C. Haymaker is confident that Dr. McCandless and the deputy coroners who embalmed the body were correct and that there was only one bullet wound. The Petrolia physicians have stated that the examination made by them was very superficial.

The exhuming party will consist of Deputy Coroners Charles Bender and Charles McQueen, Dr. McCandless, and probably Drs. A. L. Howe and Charles Andre, the Petrolia physicians. The Pittsburgh contingent will leave at 8 o'clock and on arriving at Petrolia will be met by the Petrolia physicians, and all will proceed to the little graveyard, three miles away, where the murdered girl was buried. The body will be exhumed by Undertaker Charles Byers of Petrolia and a private examination will be made. Separate findings will be handed in by the witnesses and examiners and preserved as evidence for the grand jury trial.

PLANS OF A WORTHY BENEVOLENT SOCIETY

What Pittsburgh and Allegheny Sterilized Milk Ice and Coal Association Proposes Doing.

The Pittsburgh and Allegheny Sterilized Milk, Ice and Coal association is a development of the "Pittsburgh and Allegheny Infants' Milk association." A benevolent work has been carried on by the organization for three years, to the inestimable good of the children of the poor. Last summer, with an income of $1,689, 25,650 sales of modified milk were made and nearly 1,400 quarts of whole milk were sold.

The plan of the society for its fourth year is to establish a main depot, where under the guidance of Dr. A. A. Dranga, the several forms of medicated milk will be prepared. The cost of these is so high that they are practically prohibited for poor families, the society, therefore, undertakes to provide this necessity at absolutely cost price, furnishing the milk in 6-ounce bottles, sufficient for one feeding, and charging but 1 cent per bottle. This small charge is made in the belief that the poor are able to maintain their self-respect when purchasing such a necessity. Besides retailing pasteurized and modified milk, the society proposes to sell pure milk obtained from tested herds and sold at absolutely cost price.

Another necessity of life during the heated term is ice and the society hopes that the funds at its disposad will warrant the sale of this commodity, which will also be retailed at absolutely cost price. The society does not expect to realize more than the cost of the articles sold. For meeting its expenses it depends upon the generosity of kindly disposed people. The work of the society is totally non-sectarian. It helps white and colored, Jew and Gentile, home-born and foreigner, and aims to operate only in the poorest districts, striving to reach the most worthy of the humble and unfortunate.

This society is conducted by a board of officers and by an advisory board. The latter consists of the Rt. Rev. Bishop Whitehead and Rabbi J. Leonard Levy, while the officers are as follows: Dr. Laura G. Shrom, Mr. R. B. Mackintosh, Mrs. Marie Bishop, Mrs. F. R. Wade and Dr. Amelia A. Dranga. In aid of this society, Rabbi J. Leonard Levy will deliver a lecture in the Alvin theater on Monday, June 9, on "Clerical Wit and Wisdom."

The patronesses of the society are: Mesdames William Aikens, Charles D. Armstrong, S. Jarvis Adams, Marcus Aaron, William Bole, A. P. Burchfield, D. K. Bryce, A. C. Byers, Albert J. SIXTIETH YEAR IS CELEBRATED AT PARNASSUS

Old Pastors and Laymen Were Present at Church Anniversary.

DAY FOR PRESBYTERIANS

They Came from All Over Western Pennsylvania to Help Old Congregation to Celebrate—Interesting Bits of Church History Told Again.

The celebration of the sixtieth anniversary of the organization of the Parnassus Presbyterian church yesterday was a red-letter day for adherents of the faith in Westmoreland county. The anniversary was attended by prominent clergymen and laymen from all over Western Pennsylvania.

Among them was Judge Samuel A. McClung of the Allegheny county courts, who delivered one of the principal addresses last night. Judge McClung's father, the Rev. Samuel M. McClung, was the first pastor of the Parnassus church, from 1842 to 1857. The Rev. Jesse L. Cotton of Coraopolis, a former pastor of the church, also made an address last night.

The anniversary exercises were held yesterday afternoon and evening in the handsome new church structure at the lower end of the town.

A feature of the afternoon exercises was the presentation of a memorial gift to Mrs. Elizabeth Stewart by the congregation. Mrs. Stewart is the only surviving charter member of the church. She is the wife of W. K. Stewart, a prominent citizen of Parnassus.

Told of Church's History.

The anniversary address and welcome was delivered by the Rev. C. W. Cherry, the present pastor of the church. The pastor recalled the humble beginning of the church and many interesting incidents in its history. He spoke of the men and women who had organized and made the church what it is today, commencing with 16 members in 1842, and numbering more than 250 in 1902.

Of the nine pastors of the Parnassus congregation six are living. The Rev. Dr. Daniel W. Townsend, Meadville, Pa.; the Rev. Dr. J. K. Black, Marshalltown, Ia.; the Rev. Dr. S. R. Gordon, Uniontown, Pa.; the Rev. J. L. Cotton, Coraopolis, and the Rev. J. M. Thompson, pastor of the Schuylkill Presbyterian church in Philadelphia.

The anniversary prayer was delivered by the Rev. G. L. Montgomery of Oakmont. The address of the pastor was followed by five-minute speeches from representatives of different periods of church membership. Hugh J. Logan spoke of "The Days of Our Fathers," Prof. Wilmer Dugan of "The Times in the Old Meeting House," W. J. Peebles on "Recollections of an Elder."

The Evening Session.

Historical sketches of the organizations of the church were given by Fulton A. Dugan, whose theme was "The Sabbath School," Miss Fannie Deitrich, who discussed the Women's Missionary society; Wilmer G. Dugan, who talked about the work of the Christian Endeavor society, and Miss Edith Stewart, whose topic was the Juniors.

Supper was served to the congregation in the church hall, which is the old meeting-house.

Fully 500 people attended the services last night. Attorney John M. Kennedy, son of the Rev. J. P. Kennedy, a former pastor of the church, read a history of the Parnassus church.

Church's Early History.

In 1837 John W. Logan, son of Alexander Logan, the original owner of all the territory embraced within the present limits of Parnassus and Logans Ferry, adjoining, gave an acre of ground for the purpose of building a Presbyterian meeting-house. A small frame meeting-house was built in that year which served as a church structure until 1885, when the present building was erected. A Scotch foreign missionary named Caldwell was the first to preach in the Parnassus meeting-house.

In 1842 the congregation was organized with but 16 charter members. But 11 of the names of these members are known. They are: Mrs. Elizabeth Logan, the mother of John W. Logan; John W. Logan, who donated the ground; Mrs. Elizabeth Logan, the wife of John W. Logan; Mrs. Elizabeth Stewart, John McElwaine, Mrs. Mary McElwaine, Martha McElwaine, James McElwaine, Miss Elizabeth Logan, Mrs. Julia Shoup, Mrs. George Dugan.

The Early Pastors.

In 1842 the Rev. Samuel M. McClung of Plum Creek Presbyterian church had charge of the organization and conducted services both at Parnassus and Plum Creek, six miles distant. John W. Logan was the first and only elder of the church for 10 years. The Rev. Mr. McClung resigned in 1857. He died in 1868.

The Rev. Dr. Daniel W. Townsend succeeded as pastor; was followed by the Rev. J. P. Kennedy, the Rev. Dr. J. K. Black, the Rev. Dr. S. R. Gordon, in whose administration the present church building was erected.

Soon after Dr. Gordon left there was a split in the congregation, a number leaving and starting a new church at New Kensington. Dr. Gordon was succeeded by the Rev. T. Frank Hill, who served until 1893. Mr. Hill died in 1899. The Rev. J. L. Cotton, now pastor of the Coraopolis Presbyterian church, then served.

For nearly two years following the congregation was unable to decide upon a pastor, and it was not until 1897 that a call was extended to the Rev. J. M. Thompson, who remained until 1900, when he resigned to accept a call to the Schuylkill Presbyterian church in Philadelphia.

Rev. C. Waldo Cherry, now pastor, was called to succeed Mr. Thompson.

ITS TENTH ANNIVERSARY.

Wilkinsburg Baptist Church Members Celebrated the Day.

The tenth anniversary of the organization of the Baptist church in Wilkinsburg was celebrated last night. The Rev. John H. Moore, the pastor, gave a history of the church. He said that on May 23, 1892, nine persons presented letters at a meeting held in a hall. Six are still members.

A year later the building formerly owned by the Methodists was purchased. There were then 28 members. December 17, 1893, after the building had been reconstructed, the church was dedicated.

In February, 1897, when there were 75 members, the present pastor was called. Since then the church has grown rapidly, and is one of the most prosperous in Wilkinsburg.

Piano Sale Will Soon End
Mellor's Sacrifice Prices Irresistible

The end of the Mellor sale of pianos at sacrifice prices is in sight. Persons who do not come within the next few days will miss this golden opportunity.

High grade pianos were never before sold at such prices.

They would not be so greatly reduced in the present instance if it were not for the excavations being made for the Farmers Deposit Bank building next door to the Mellor property. Workmen engaged in making these excavations have encroached on the Mellor premises to such an extent that the Mellor basement had to be vacated. And, of course, this made it necessary to dispose of all the goods there without delay. This is the story in a nutshell.

The list at Mellor's includes the Steinway, Krakauer, Sterling, Ludwig, Cameron, Cambridge, Chickering and a half dozen others.

There are shopworn pianos, pianos that have been rented, pianos in storage, specimen pianos sent for examination, etc.

Second-Hand Square Pianos from $25 up
Second-Hand Uprights from $75 up
Shop-Worn Pianos from $135 up
Specimen Pianos from $165 up
Brand New Pianos from $175 up

Although these items may give you some idea of how deeply prices have been cut, it will be necessary for you to see the instruments to realize what really great bargains are being secured here.

In addition to the piano bargains, there are tremendous cuts in prices of small instruments. See the unheard-of

FOURTEEN PAGES.

Worse May Come in West Indies.

Latest dispatches from the island of Martinique show the whole remaining population in a state of panic, fearful that they may yet share the fate of the inhabitants of St. Pierre. While it is mere unreasoning terror that inspires the people, their fears are justified by the calm, critical judgment of the American scientists who have just reached the scene. It is their opinion, after investigation, that the entire island may be wrecked and deluged and made uninhabitable by volcanic fires. The eruption of Mont Pelee that destroyed St. Pierre on May 8 was not the culmination and climax of volcanic activity with subsequent eruptions but subsiding groans and upheavals. On the contrary, conditions grow worse, the eruption on Monday having been many times greater than the first one. It was less terrible only for the reason that there was nothing but ruin at St. Pierre for it to feed on, but its greater force was evidenced in the rain of ashes and stones at Fort de France and in the disturbance of the sea around the island. The scientists who arrived on the Dixie indorse the local belief in the dangers of the situation and confirm the popular fears that there may be worse to come. Conditions are not much better on the island of St. Vincent, and the entire surviving populations of the two troubled islands may be taken away to quieter scenes.

Presbyterian Agreement.

It will be a gratifying surprise to many who have followed the arguments, pro and con, on the question of creed revision by Presbyterian assemblies and the committees to whom has been assigned the duty of providing a revised expression of faith to find that, after all, there is practical unanimity among the fathers and leaders on the subject. The general assembly in session in New York yesterday adopted the entire report of the committee on revision of the confession of faith with but two dissenting votes, and afterward adopted with similar unanimity the supplementary statement of doctrine over which there has been so much discussion. The action on this supplementary statement is final with the assembly, but the other parts of the committee's report must now go to the various presbyteries for a vote of approval, affirmation by two-thirds of the presbyteries being necessary before they can become a part of the organic creed of the church.

It is an astonishing evidence of denominational harmony to find this great representative body of the Presbyterian church so nearly in accord as to questions of doctrine and polity. The effect of the proposed restatement of the doctrines of the church will affect profoundly, but not radically, the history of Presbyterianism in America.

Should the presbyteries approve the assembly's action the Presbyterian church will hereafter teach its doctrines in language that cannot be misunderstood and perverted to the injury of Christian faith and conscience.

Pittsburgh Region Celebration.

Another step has been made toward a celebration of the Fourth of July that will eclipse all former records. It is the concession by the railroads of a single fare as the round trip rate from all points in the Pittsburgh region. This makes the demonstration one for the entire district, so that President Roosevelt can truly feel when addressing the multitude that it represents no mean portion of the vast country he has been called upon to preside over. Western Pennsylvania, Eastern Ohio and West Virginia make a comparatively small part of the map of the United States, but there is not a more resourceful or busier spot on the earth. There is an audience here that even the president may feel honored in addressing as it will feel honored by his presence.

Stone and His Proxy.

The nearer the date of the state convention the more profound is the silence of Gov. Stone. The governor is hopeful that in his silence he may be forgotten as the real issue of the campaign and that he may receive an indorsement from the people in the person of his attorney general. That is why there is not even a postscript from the chief executive of the commonwealth for public consumption. This silence is so remarkable, however, as to attract general attention, and the wonder is that his excellency (a purely official expression) can so diligently repress himself. But the governor has a field of activity all his own that, in a measure, explains his ability to avoid publicity. In these latter days of the campaign the telephone is his agency for working off surplus energy. By means of it he keeps busy in Elkin's behalf while avoiding the center of the stage and keeping out of the limelight. He is prosecuting a vigorous campaign in behalf of his candidate for governor. He is using every part of the machinery of the state government that is under his control to compass Elkin's success in order that he may point to it as an indorsement of his own course. It is well known that were the governor to ask an indorsement for himself he could not get it. Were Stone openly before the people he would be repudiated by such a majority as Pennsylvania has never seen. Unfortunately for Attorney General Elkin he appears in the contest as proxy for the governor and he will suffer from that handicap in the state convention. His task is to win for the governor a popular indorsement that the governor cannot command for himself. The governor is doing his best with the long-distance 'phone to further his efforts. But the delegates will think long before offering to the people a candidate for governor whose nomination would be an indorsement of the acts of the present incumbent of the gubernatorial office. Gov. Stone's silence does not alter the conditions for which he is responsible. It serves rather to attract attention to them. The governor, as much as anyone, loves popular approval, and it is his present cup of bitterness that he dare not ask it in the open, but must court it in the seclusion of his telephone box and in the person of his candidate.

Wreck of the Maine.

Senator Lodge has introduced the much-talked-of bill providing for the raising of the wreck of the Maine from Havana harbor and the recovery of the bodies of American seamen remaining in the hulk. It is a very proper bill. The men whose lives were taken by the hand of treachery are entitled to honorable sepulture if their bodies can be recovered, and it will be an act of courtesy to the new Cuban government to remove the wreck from the harbor where it menaces commerce. The work might well have been done during the American occupation, but after all it may be a good thing that it was left until the reconstruction of Cuba was complete. It will afford an opportunity to independent Cuba to express its kindly feeling for those men whose death led to its liberation.

A Timely Caution.

Occupants of some of the old structures in the downtown district, who have been overcrowding the capacity of their buildings, have been given warning in the partial collapse of a tin plate warehouse in Second avenue yesterday. Capt. Brown, superintendent of the bureau of building inspection, has declared that unless precautions are taken against the further overloading of these old structures that, when built, were never meant to become the depositories of such heavy stores, worse accidents may be expected. The matter is one of sufficient importance to demand attention. Fortunately, in the two recent instances of the collapse of buildings no fatalities have resulted, and only the loss and inconvenience consequent upon the falling in of the walls have been suffered. But this fortunate circumstance may not attend future disasters, just as it has not been the rule in past disasters of like character. The warning of the building inspector might profitably be taken in the sense of a command, and in all cases where there are evidences of weak walls or flooring the surplus pressure should be removed.

A Problem of Criminology.

A delegate to the Women's Christian Temperance Union convention, in session in New York city, presented statistics which showed that the descendants of a woman of criminal tendencies, who died in 1827, have cost the public more than $3,000,000. Eight hundred of these descendants have been traced. Seven hundred of them were criminals, and among them were 37 murderers. Statistics of this sort are difficult of verification, and it may be that some liberal estimates have been made in this computation; but it is well known that criminals are expensive burdens upon society, and that heredity, environment and lack of education are the prime factors in enlarging the criminal classes.

The danger to the United States from this source deserves the especial attention of thoughtful men and women. The constant supplies of immigrants reaching America hold a menace to the nation. This fact was remarked upon the other day by President Masaryk of the Prague university, who is visiting America. Said he:

> From my observations in the immigration quarters of New York I have been led to believe the situation is really alarming. Here you have on an average of a half million immigrants coming to your shores annually, for the most part uneducated, among them great numbers of Italians, Syrians, Turks and Greeks. You cannot imagine what it means to have these people suddenly liberated from the political, religious and social bonds under which they have lived for centuries. Comparatively few seem to see the danger that lurks behind this condition. A half million immigrants means about 500,000 children in five years. Who takes care of them?

They are not taken care of. New York city does not take care of the little foreigners. It does not properly care for its American school population. A week or two ago a New York citizen died and left provision for an endowed kindergarten. His action has been unreservedly commended by the press of New York city, and by private citizens who understood the value of the training given to the poor children in these institutions. The establishment of such schools is an excellent way of treating the problem of criminology. The children taught therein are such as would be likely to drift into neglected and vicious classes. Money expended in this sort of education is money spent to prevent crime and to save much larger expense later in punishing the lawless, who could be saved by proper instruction in their teachable days.

The festivities connected with the birth of the Cuban republic have been completed, and President Palma and the various heads of departments now settle down to the serious affairs of government. Probably no more arduous task confronts the president of the new nation than the selection of men to fill the places at his disposal. According to dispatches from Havana he is being harassed by officeseekers, who are assailing him from all sides, and doubtless he has already realized that the presidency carries with it unexpected troubles. This being the first opportunity that the people of Cuba have had for holding positions under a government of their own there is naturally a scramble to secure them, and, as there are not enough offices to go around, much disappointment is inevitable. Doubtless there are thousands of Cubans who imagine that their services in the cause of freedom entitle them to recognition in the distribution of offices, and President Palma will be fortunate, indeed, if he manages to placate those to whom he must refuse appointment.

The demand from Chester county in behalf of Pennypacker is the voice of the people of the county of his birth. The Chester county convention, without authority from the people, gave instructions for Elkin before Pennypacker was in the field. Now that Pennypacker is a candidate the people of Chester county are being heard from, and they demand that their delegates to the state convention support the son of Chester for the highest office of the state. Doubtless the delegates will hear and obey, as the gathering that instructed them for Elkin clearly exceeded its powers in doing so.

The attention of Attorney General Knox is being directed to the anthracite coal combine by some of the eastern papers. Patience, gentlemen. The attorney general has his batteries concentrated on another point just now. Leave him to himself. There may be danger of missing the target by a scattering of his fire.

A correspondent at Madrid is authority for the report that a bride is being sought for King Alfonso, and that the Grand Duchess Helen, daughter of Grand Duke Vladimir of Russia, is being considered. The grand duchess is more than four years the senior of the young king, but disparities in age do not count when the royal matchmakers are considering available candidates for matrimony.

Of course it was a Philadelphia newspaper that printed as a red-hot news story from the wilds of New Jersey the old gag about the preacher who exchanged joyfully his rural charge for the chaplaincy of a penitentiary.

The Presbyterian general assembly has had great provocation to put into its new creed an additional chapter on the future punishment of overcoat and umbrella thieves.

Having made it hot for each other all winter congressmen will for the rest of the season get their caloric from the weather bureau on the installment plan.

Let the coal trust rage and the beef trust imagine a vain thing. We still have the soda fountain operated with unharnessed competition.

While Pittsburgh is having rare May weather reports from Utah indicate that at some western points it has been positively raw.

The New York newspapers that claim to have freed Cuba are naturally felicitating themselves quite noisily this week.

Nicaragua may be the popular canal route among American people, but the straw hat vote would hardly prove it.

This is the season that the young man's fancy goes a-searching for a girl with an ice creamless taste.

The 17-year locust and the shirt waist man seem to be in for a large share of summer notoriety.

The snowstorm in Colorado is another evidence that this country isn't shy on variety.

Cuba must have quite a bad attack of that "morning after" feeling to contend with.

Court Warns Councilmen.

WASHINGTON, PA., May 22.—(Special.)—The court here today gave the council of Houston borough until June 3 to organize, stating that unless it did so by that time the members would be ousted without further hearing.

Presbyterians Jubilant Over the Revision

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, May 22.

There was a dramatic scene in the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian church this morning when the general assembly voted unanimously for the revision of the Presbyterian creed. The sunlight streamed down in a solid shaft from an upper window upon the iron gray head of the moderator and lighted up his face as he smiled upon the vast gathering. He was for revision, and when he found that the whole assembly voted for it, with two exceptions, it was easy to imagine that the sunshine cast a halo of glorification about him. Long before the assembly met it was evident that the report of the committee on the revision of the confession of faith would be adopted. The general belief was that it would go through unanimously, because it was thought that the few opponents of it would merely refuse to vote. Many of the conservative defenders of the old confession did keep silent when a vote was asked, but two of them explained their position before they asked permission to abstain from going on the record either for or against. One of them, the Rev. G. Fleming Bailey of Florida, remarked, sadly, as he saw that the old confession was to be changed, "This is the beginning of the end." He was the only person in the big church that took a sad view of the situation, if one might judge by the radiant faces on all sides. The assembly had met to adopt the report and they did it with the utmost cheerfulness. Western Pennsylvania took an active part in the important work, for it was Dr. Moffat, president of Washington and Jefferson college, who made the motion to accept the overtures and delivered a powerful speech in favor of them. There were congratulatory remarks after the passing of the viva voce resolution to adopt, and then the commissioners filed out for luncheon, while the "Hallelujah chorus" thundered from the organ, an echo of the joyful feeling in all hearts. It was an occasion that never can be forgotten by those present, marking an epoch in the history of sturdy old Presbyterianism.

Pittsburghers on the Teutonic.

The White Star liner Teutonic, which sailed for Liverpool yesterday, carried among her 300 or so of cabin passengers these prominent Pittsburghers: Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Hayes, Mrs. W. B. Leeds, Miss E. W. Leeds, Master William Leeds, Mrs. C. A. Balph and Master C. F. Balph.

Rapid Work on Rapid Transit.

Work on the rapid transit tunnel has been progressing with great rapidity since the opening of spring. It may have been going on as fast all winter, but the results did not show as they do now. Down in front of the city hall, which was a perfect wilderness of stones, upheaved flagstones, heaps of broken asphalt, piles of timbers, deep holes, loud-voiced and perspiring workmen and noisy engines for a year, the disturbances nearly all have been buried out of sight. The whole of City Hall park is honeycombed with excavations, for the terminal loop will be at that point; but none of it shows nowadays. As soon as the contractors could do it they relaid the roadways, grass plots and asphalt walks, and did it with commendable celerity. The comfort this is to the crowds that have to cross the park morning and evening on their way to and from the Brooklyn bridge is so great that it is the subject of general comment, particularly among Brooklynites. At the circle where the statue of Columbus stands at the edge of Central park, and keeps a steady eye on Eighth avenue, the subway is all covered in, too. In many parts of Manhattan long stretches of the underground railroad have been completed and there is little doubt now that the big $35,000,000 contract will be finished considerably ahead of the specified date.

Rise in Coal Pinches the Dealers.

Coal has taken another jump in price. Some dealers have not increased their rate above the figures of yesterday—$6.35—but others, determined not to lose any point, boldly announce that it requires $7.50 to buy a ton of their anthracite, and no reduction by the five tons either. Some of the Brooklyn dealers are in an unhappy position through the coal strike. They made contracts with customers some time ago to supply them with coal on demand at $5.35 a ton throughout the year, and if they are held to this agreement will have to lose $2 or $3 on every ton they deliver.

Health of Sage and Keene.

Russell Sage is recovering from his cold and expects to be at his desk again in a few days. An evening paper hotly denies that James R. Keene is not in good health. It says he is quite well, and has gone abroad only for recreation. This may be true, but the great financier did not look very robust as he made his way up the gangplank to the steamer yesterday.

Salvation Uniforms Plentiful.

Salvation army uniforms are more common about New York than usual. There is always a fair sprinkling of them, but this week the 22d annual congress of the Salvation army in America is in session in New York, with representatives of more than 300 posts in different parts of the country present. Mayor Low was made aware officially today that the congress is here. Commander Booth-Tucker, with 25 of his staff officers and a number of delegates, went to City hall at noon, accompanied by a lusty Salvation army band, playing gospel and patriotic hymns with much energy. The band remained on the broad steps of the municipal building while Commander Booth-Tucker and his associates made their way to the mayor's office. He invited Mayor Low to be at the rally in Carnegie hall on Tuesday evening next, and his honor said he would if he could. The Salvation officers will go to Long Branch on Saturday to consecrate the army's fresh air home there, and on Sunday meetings will be held in the Academy of Music.

No Gasoline Mobe for Howells.

Can it be that W. D. Howells is interested in an electric automobile concern? The great American novelist has put himself on record as being opposed to all but electric automobiles on the public streets. He says other kinds are "noisy, noisome and dangerous." Meanwhile the creator of "Silas Lapham" gets down to the Harper building in Franklin square from his up-town home every day either in a hansom or by means of the plebeian "L."

Wantage Still Tammany's Capital.

According to the action taken by Tammany hall today, it looks as if Richard Croker will continue to be "boss." The executive committee had a quiet little meeting in the wigwam this afternoon, and the result of their conference was that they decided not to have a leader at all. They elected three of their members as an "advisory committee" to conduct the affairs of the organization. This seems to be a wise arrangement, in the absence of the "old man;" but if it does not mean that the king will hold his court at Wantage then most New Yorkers are at fault.

A Prince and His Suite Prisoners.

New York is long in Indian princes. Vulgar policemen, raiding an oriental restaurant in Fifth avenue the other evening captured "Prince Ranji Smilie" and his suite of 11 East Indians. The attendants said that the prince had brought them here under false promises and they had no means of sustenance. The police, thus brought face to face with India famine sufferers, referred the whole matter to the "captain." That dignitary cast his eagle police eye over the city and unearthed three more East Indians in the care of the Paulist Fathers. Then the poor authorities and inspectors of Uncle Sam's immigration bureau took a hand. The result of it all is that prince and 31 East Indians who say they are the "suite" of the prince, are on Ellis island, waiting to be sent back to Calcutta.

Minister Squiers Sails for Cuba.

A steamship of the Ward line, dressed in bunting from bowsprit to stern, passed gaily down the bay this morning. She was the Vigilancia, carrying the minister plenipotentiary from the United States to Cuba, Herbert G. Squiers. Incidentally, the Vigilancia is the first ship to sail for Cuba from New York flying the Cuban flag. The Seneca, which came into port yesterday, was the first vessel to arrive from Cuba under the flag of the new republic, and dressed ship, as did several other steamers in the harbor, in honor of the new diplomat. The air was full of Cuban enthusiasm, and a very healthy sentiment it seemed to be.

Cupid Barred Out.

Cupid has received a slap in the face in Long Island City. That part of Greater New York which used to be under the sway of "Battle-ax Gleason" when it enjoyed the dignity of possessing its own mayor, used to be pastoral in its atmosphere in the old days. Since Gleason's departure a prosaic deputy superintendent of buildings has the power to frown upon the gentle lovemaking that was always encouraged by the gallant "Battle-ax." One of the public school buildings in the borough has deep recesses in front of its doors, and these recesses have been favorite trysting places for Strephons and Phyllyses of the neighborhood. Mr. Deputy, having got long past his sweethearting days, has had two heavy iron gates placed in front of these recesses, and many a romance which was progressing satisfactorily is in danger of being knocked out of joint.

Prospect for Another Zoo.

Brooklyn may get a new zoo. E. M. Bliss, who has made his millions by manufacturing torpedoes, owns a splendid estate at Bay ridge, overlooking the Atlantic, which is known as "Owl's head." It has long been coveted by Brooklyn as a park, but the city could not spare the price. If Mr. Bliss does give the property to the borough it will be one of the prettiest and healthiest public pleasure grounds in all Greater New York. The stocking of it with animals will be comparatively an easy part of the work.

Archbishop Corrigan's Successor.

It is the general opinion that the next archbishop of New York will be the Rt. Rev. John M. Farley, auxiliary bishop of the diocese. This is the opinion of those interested in the meeting of irremovable rectors and diocesan consulters which took place today in the archiepiscopal residence to choose a successor to the late Archbishop Corrigan. While those present at the meeting would give no hint of what had taken place it was understood that the following was the result of the balloting: The Rt. Rev. John M. Farley, dignissimus; the Rt. Rev. Mgr. Joseph F. Mooney, dignior; the Rt. Rev. Charles E. McDonnell, or the Rev. Dr. Charles H. Colton, dignus.

Brooklyn Struggling for Library Sites.

The Carnegie library trustees in Brooklyn are still fighting for part of the Andrew Carnegie gift. There is no trouble about the borough getting its share if the board of estimate will grant Brooklyn the seven sites it wants. The amount of money needed for these sites is about $140,000 and the appropriation of this sum would mean the immediate gift to the borough of Brooklyn of $560,000 from Mr. Carnegie for the buildings. No appropriation for any similar purpose would net so profitable and immediate a return. The sites asked for are no larger than are needed and the price asked for them is not exorbitant. President Boody of the Brooklyn public library board thus expressed himself this afternoon: "I have talked with some of the members of the board of estimate upon the matter, and although we may not secure the seven sites I think we can count on four or five."

Martinique Voyage Delayed.

The officers of the training ship Buffalo, which is lying at the Brooklyn navy yard awaiting orders, are growing uneasy. It has been expected for a week that the Buffalo would be ordered to proceed to Martinique with supplies for the refugees. There are at present no indications that she will sail within a few days, or perhaps weeks. She was scheduled to proceed to Manila with supplies for the Asiatic squadron, when the orders came to prepare for the relief expedition.

Commuters Smell of Kerosene.

There will be a desperate fight against the mosquito on Long Island and over in New Jersey this summer. Ditches have been dug in many of the swampy places on Long Island in the hope of driving the critters out by irrigation. In Jersey there are too many sunken meadows to make that plan possible, so the natives are fighting the pest with coal oil and an occasional "smudge." The average commuter from Jersey smells like an old kerosene lamp these days.

Stone's Last Hope.

From the Oil City Blizzard.

There is a persistent effort on the part of the Elkin boomers to becloud the real issue in the campaign for a Republican nominee for governor. But it will not avail. Republicans of Pennsylania will not fail to bear in mind that the man behind the Elkin gun is Gov. Stone. The governor keeps in the background, but he is pulling the strings, operating the long distance telephone, and working hard for his man. The nomination of Mr. Elkin, if it could be made, would be a vote of confidence in Gov. Stone's administration, and such a vote of confidence the Republicans of Pennsylvania are decidedly averse to giving. If Elkin is not nominated and elected Stone's political prospects are forever doomed.

Rush for the Premiere Performance.

If anything were needed to attest the popularity of the forthcoming production of Sarah Truax's new play at the Grand, on Monday, June 2, it was furnished in the long line of ticket buyers in the lobby of the theater yesterday morning as early at 7 o'clock. Manager Davis has expended much time and money upon the new play, and everything that good taste and artistic skill can bring to bear has been bestowed upon "Lady Godiva." Several prominent New York managers and newspaper men will come to Pittsburgh to view the first night performance. A number of Miss Truax's admirers from Rochester, Syracuse, Buffalo and Baltimore, where she has appeared as leading lady, will also be in attendance at the premiere performance.

The churchyard by familiar ways,

And strangers bear him to his rest.
Far from the homeland paths he trod,
And loved the best."

Mrs. Henry Wills.

Mrs. Henrietta Wills, 76 years old, wife of Henry Wills of No. 904 Wooster street, Allegheny, and mother of Lafayette Wills, city clerk of Allegheny, died yesterday. Mrs. Wills was born in Germany, but came to the United States when a child. For over 25 years she had been a resident of the Seventh ward, Allegheny, and was active in church work. AID TO MISSIONS GIVEN.

General Committee of Home Missions of the U. P. Church Passes Upon About 100 Stations.

The second day's session of the annual meeting of the general committee of home missions of the United Presbyterian church of North America, at the church in Bellevue, was devoted chiefly to the consideration of appropriations for the various stations applying for aid. About 100 stations were passed upon yesterday and allotments aggregating about $50,000 decided upon. There are yet 150 applications to be considered.

The Rev. Dr. R. S. Gilchrist of Pittsburgh presided at the sessions yesterday. At the morning session the following committees were appointed:

Special missions—J. W. Ashwood, chairman; J. R. J. Milligan, J. P. White, M. M. Kilpatrick, J. B. Pollock.

New York—John M. Ross, chairman; C. F. Crooks, J. A. Watson, D. D., W. R. Cox, F. A. Collins.

Resolutions and recommendations—W. M. Anderson, chairman; R. W. Kidd, W. H. Patterson, J. W. Harsha, A. G. King, D. D.

The evening session was devoted entirely to the delivering of addresses. The Rev. M. M. Kilpatrick of Santa Anna, Cal., presided. "The Call to Our Church From the Home Field" was the subject for the addresses. The Rev. J. B. Pollock of Clinton, Mass., represented the far east; the Rev. W. R. Cox of Whatcom, Wash., the far west, and the Rev. T. V. Dugan of Chicago the central section. Each of the speakers reported the situation, opportunities and needs in the matter of missions in their respective sections.

OATMEAL WATER VS. BEER.

New York Temperance Women to Entertain Subway Workmen.

NEW YORK, May 22.—(Special.)—If the members of the Women's Christian Temperance union are able to put into execution the plans which they decided upon today at their annual county convention, the 10,000 subway workmen will eat their luncheons in the churches along the line of the route during the summer, and as a counter attraction to intoxicating liquor, they will be provided with an unceasing flow of "palatable oatmeal water."

Mrs. E. D. Martin offered a resolution that the union take measures to have the churches take out their cushions and open their doors during the noon hour.

"The object of this is not only that the men may have some shelter from the sun, but from the saloon, also," said Mrs. F. A. Westerfield, "and unless palatable oatmeal water or lemonade is served the men will go out to the saloons and bring intoxicants into the churches to drink."

This possibility horrified the members and before passing the resolution they hastily amended it so as to make the oatmeal water obligatory.

To Build Ice Plant.

SHARON, PA., May 22.—(Special.)—The Artificial Ice Company organized here yesterday by electing the following directors: J. J. Spearman, John Carley, Dr. O'Brien, S. S. McClure, Dr. Berryhill, R. N. Payne and C. W. Knox, Jr. The officers are: S. S. McClure, president; C. W. Knox, secretary, treasurer and manager. The company is capitalized at $40,000, and a plant will be erected at once.

PERSONALS

"The only way possible to Americanize the Philippine Islands is to send American citizens there and colonize them," said Sergt. E. C. Humes of Company I, Seventeenth infantry, who was at the Union station last night, en route to his home in Mercer, Pa., from Manila. "The natives of the island are just as hostile to the Americans now as they were before Aguinaldo was captured, and they will retain the same spirit for many years to come. Of course, the Americans are doing great work in the Philippines, for the number that are there, but they are entirely too few. Even the United States army in the islands is regarded, by persons in a position to know, as entirely too small, and it is only considered a matter of time until another outbreak occurs, and when it does come it promises to be greater than any before."

"The lower armor plate vault in the Frick building is the largest of its kind in the world," said William H. Hallar, president of the Hallar Lock Inspection and Guarantee Company of New York, last night. Mr. Hallar has been personally superintending the work of construction of the vaults in the building. The large vault on the banking floor will be completed in about three months, but the armor plate vault in the basement will not be finished before December 1. This vault will be constructed of the finest armor plate and will contain over 16,000 lock boxes.

General Manager George L. Potter and Vice President Oscar G. Murray of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, who have been in Pittsburgh for two days, left in their private car last night for Baltimore.

James W. Hodgens, cashier of the Butte Savings bank of Butte, Mont., who has been the guest of his brother, Dr. J. Walter Hodgens of Wylie avenue, left last night on the Pennsylvania Limited for Butte.

Col. J. M. Roberts, a prominent attorney of Keokuk, Ia., who has been on a business trip in Pittsburgh for the past week, went west on the Pennsylvania Limited last night.

City Solicitor Carnahan, who, with John W. Herron, went to England to ask Mrs. Schenley to give to Pittsburgh property wanted as a site for the polytechnic school, will be the guest of Andrew Carnegie at Skibo castle before he returns to Pittsburgh. They met Mr. Carnegie on the steamer on the way over. City officials have received several letters from Mr. Carnahan. He is advising them as to the success of the mission with Mrs. Schenley, but the officials are keeping this information to themselves.

Rabbi A. M. Ashinsky left last night for Boston as the delegate from the Dorche Zion societies of Allegheny county to the American Federation of Zionist societies at Boston. The convention will probably decide whether Palestine shall be recolonized by the Jews. Rabbi Ashinsky was prominent in the movement in Canada, prior to his coming to Pittsburgh, and, it is expected, will take a leading part in the convention.

Delegates and Their Instructions.

From the Philadelphia Press.

The Mercer county Republican convention, held several weeks ago to elect delegates to the state convention, did not instruct those delegates. The omission was deliberate. The county committee was not satisfied, however, and a few days ago passed a resolution instructing the delegates how they shall vote on the nomination of a candidate for governor.

Such action was pure assumption on the part of the county committee, which has no business to instruct delegates to the state convention. It may be that the instructions are in accord with the sentiment of the county—we think it likely they are—but that has nothing to do with the question. If it was necessary to bind the delegates to that sentiment in such a manner that they could not get away the convention which elected them was the power to convey instructions, and the only one.

The delegates do not derive their authority from county committees, and county committees are not organized and maintained to interfere in the nomination of candidates for the party. The practice of entrusting the county committees with the election of delegates was one of the causes of the party revolt 20 years ago, when rules were adopted taking that power out of the hands of the committee. The committee might just as well elect the delegates direct as to assume to instruct delegates elected by some other power in the party. This is a day of too much enlightenment to make such action tolerable. The Mercer delegates do not have to be bound by the kind of instructions they have received, but they should be guided by the prevailing sentiment of their constituents, whatever it may be.

And county committees and all other official party committees should keep out of controversies over candidates. From the state committee down to the division organization all such committees ought to be spot-free from all factional taint. They should not be used to obstruct the candidacy of one Republican or to promote the candidacy of another. When they mix into these things they depart from their proper line of work and do much to destroy their usefulness. Party committees, however, have been led into this practice so generally over the state—and the evil has attained a sort of regularity in this city—that it is time to end it.

The selection of candidates and of delegates and the matter of instructions should be left to the people through their direct vote at the primaries or their conventions. There is no other proper authority, and the interference of party committees is certain to create resentment, as it has never failed to do in the past.

The New Jacksonville.

From the Baltimore Sun.

The census of Jacksonville, Fla., ordered by the city council, has just been completed. The new census gives Jacksonville a population of 33,687, and of these 14,370 are white and 19,317 colored. This is an increase of 5,158 compared with the government census of 1900. When it is remembered that Jacksonville was visited by a great fire only a little over one year ago, which caused many people to leave the city for want of houses to live in, this increase of population is remarkable. Since the fire over 2,000 houses of various sorts have been erected, and the work of construction is still being vigorously pushed.

The Newspapers.

From the Louisville Courier-Journal.

"If it were not for the newspapers," says Congressman Littlefield, "the jobs which would go through congress are terrible to contemplate. If there were no newspapers at all, I don't believe I would be willing to trust myself alone in the house of representatives for 15 minutes." Brother Littlefield might pursue that "if" considerably farther. Indeed, "if it were not for the newspapers," very few men now in congress would ever have got out of their "native parts." The newspapers have much to answer for, as well as much to be thanked for.

COMMITTEE ON PARKS VISITED PLEASURE SPOTS

Saw Schenley and Highland With Contemplated Improvements.

ZOO WAS INVESTIGATED

Visitors Paid Especial Attention to the Unsuitable Abodes Where Some Animals Are Confined—Improvements Were Explained.

Director McCandless, with many members of the councilmanic committee on parks, visited Schenley and Highland parks yesterday afternoon to look over sites for proposed improvements. The trip was made in two wagonettes used at Schenley park, and culminated with a fine dinner at the Highland Golf club. The visitors paid particular attention to the overcrowded condition at the Highland zoo.

The committee gathered at Schenley park shortly after 1 o'clock. The first stop was made at Phipps conservatory, and the party walked across the roadway to see where the speakers' stand for the Fourth of July is to be erected. It will allow thousands of people to sit along the hillside and listen.

The party then followed Superintendent Falconer through the conservatory, into the Phipps Hall of Botany, where a class from the Fifth Avenue school was being taught, and then out to the edge of the hill side above Panther hollow. Here was shown where the new park stables are to be erected, and the plans of the building were inspected, Architect Rutan of the firm of Rutan & Russell being present.

The location for the first of additional shelter and public comfort houses was selected. It will be on a narrow bit of ground between the roadway and the hillside above Panther hollow.

Sites for New Buildings.

The party was driven across Panther hollow bridge to the start of the bridle path, where Superintendent Falconer proposed to erect a pavilion as a protection against rain and wind. This place was also approved.

At Highland park Superintendent E. E. Siebert joined the party. Superintendent Falconer explained that it was proposed to build a large music pavilion so that many people could sit on the hill side and be within hearing. The committeemen hoped to see the animals fed, but Ernest Tretow explained that the animals became troublesome when their feeding time passed, and he had been unable to await the committee's arrival.

The party spent some time in looking over the zoo, and inquiry was made of Tretow in regard to buildings that should be erected. It was also brought out that there was an urgent demand for larger grazing and running ground for many of the animals. The committeemen, after looking over the abandoned houses and store boxes that have been pressed into service for animal habitation, were in perfect agreement with Superintendent Tretow in his demand for better accommodations.

The drive was resumed to Lake Carnegie and back of it to a level bit of ground above the river, where Director McCandless informed his guests that he hoped to be able to erect a restaurant. He said that he supposed most of the money in hand for park improvements would be spent at Highland park in bettering the zoo and putting up some new buildings.

The drive was continued to the house of the Highland Golf club, where dinner was served.

Wanted Park Thrown Open.

Chairman Armstrong thought the Second avenue park, which is protected by barbed wire, should be opened to the public. Superintendent Falconer explained that the bureau of highways and sewers had charge of that park. Mr. Armstrong also thought more time and money should be spent on the South Side parks. He was told that there is more work being done there now than ever before.

At the conclusion of dinner the party drove to Oakland, where they took street cars to the city.

Among those present were the following members of the committee: Joseph G. Armstrong, chairman; F. W. Bonini, William Brand, John Costello, P. J. Donahoe, John Lewis, William Schempp, E. G. Schwarzwelder, Joseph W. West and J. S. Wightman. Others there were Director McCandless, Director Wilson, Robert E. Cluley, chief clerk in the department of public works; Architects Rutan and Espey, and some newspaper men.

Episcopal Church Home Affair.

The Episcopal women throughout the Pittsburgh district united yesterday in giving a very successful fair and garden party at the Episcopal Church Home, Penn avenue and Fortieth street, Lawrenceville. Booths and stands were placed in the rooms on the first floor, ice cream and cake were served in the children's play room and supper was served in a large room. Ping-pong was given a conspicuous place, the rooms on the right of the entrance being filled with ping-pong tables, which were in the care of Miss Virginia Johnston and her visiting friend, Miss Stotesburg, and Miss Margaretta Wood, all three young girls being experts in handling the racquets.

The women of the Church of the Ascension made a very pretty display of small water colors, framed, and dainty sachets. The women of St. Peter's church reveled amid a brilliant showing of pillows and cushions, a colonial quilt being conspicuous with its bright coloring and marvelous stitches. Aprons and shirt waists showed the workmanship of the women of St. John's church; those from St. Andrew's church showed exquisite pieces of linen, embroidered in white and in colors, drawn-work and all sorts of attractive needlework. Fancy paper shades and screens were the stock in trade of the women of Emmanuel church, while those from Trinity church limited themselves to wall pockets, and simple and useful embroidered articles.

Mrs. George A. Gormly entertained both afternoon and evening with her inimitable "Mrs. Jarley's Wax Works." The ice cream rooms were very attractive. They were presided over by Mrs. Frank Bissell, Mrs. Alfred Rankin, Mrs. C. C. Hussey, Miss Jackson and Miss Bakewell. Their aides were Miss Ethel Byram, the Misses DuPuy, Miss Helen Horne, Miss Helen Earl, the Misses Hay, Miss Margaret Scully, Miss Bessie Hudson, Miss Laura Smith, Miss Sarah McKnight and Miss Martha Chambers.

Delightful Recital Given.

A recital was given yesterday at the studio of Ad. M. Foerster in honor of the birth anniversary of Richard Wagner. Mr. Foerster is one of the most thorough Wagner students in the state, and the program rendered by a number of his pupils was artistically built. There were both vocal aand instrumental selections. Among those who participated were Miss Semmelrock and Mrs. Edna V. Dillon.

Reception for Miss Perkins.

Miss C. E. Perkins, formerly superintendent of nurses of the Allegheny General hospital, and now superintendent of the Maternity hospital, Philadelphia, who is visiting in the city, was tendered an informal reception at the nurses' headquarters, 1209 Resaca place, Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Frick's Luncheon.

Mrs. Henry Clay Frick gave a beautiful luncheon yesterday afternoon at "Clayton," her home in Penn avenue, Homewood. It was a 2 o'clock luncheon and the guests were seated at a number of small tables, decorated with exquisite spring flowers. Fifty ladies were present, many of those receiving invitations having been obliged to send regrets because of the Episcopal church home fair, the two dates conflicting. During the luncheon a large orchestra stationed in the side hall played a varied program of music. Tropical plants and spring flowers were placed in all the lower apartments of the handsome house.

Strong Glee Club Association.

The Glee Club association of the Western University of Pennsylvania has organized for next fall and is putting out probably the strongest glee club and mandolin club ever at the university. Already a large number of engagements have been made for next winter, the concert season opening early in November. F. H. Hayes is the new manager for the association. Prof. Fetterman is president and J. E. Biggins treasurer. C. C. Warne is director of the glee club, and C. W. Mann director of the mandolin club, of which Walter Howard is the leader.

Last Tuesday evening the combined clubs gave a concert in Knoxville for the benefit of the Brotherhood of Stephen of the First Christian church.

Morgan—Alexander.

The residence of Billingsley Morgan in Washington avenue, Carnegie, was last evening the scene of one of the prettiest home weddings that ever took place in Carnegie. The wedding was that of Miss Elizabeth Morgan and Edgar Alexander, the officiating minister being the Rev. J. M. Duff of the Carnegie Presbyterian church. The bride was attended by Miss Jennie Morgan, a sister, as bridesmaid, and Frederick Alexander, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. The ushers were Edward Morgan, a brother of the bride, and Farrar Cook of Allegheny. Little Margaret Duff, daughter of the officiating minister, acted as ring bearer. The bride was gowned in a white point d'esprit and carried white roses. The bridesmaid was gowned in white and carried a bouquet of pink carnations. Following the wedding a reception took place. Mr. and Mrs. Alexander left on an extended eastern tour, and on their return will reside in Carnegie. The bride is a popular young society woman of Carnegie, and the bridegroom is connected with the Columbia Bridge Company of Carnegie.

Wedding in New Kensington.

The social event of the early summer season in New Kensington will be the marriage on the evening of June 5 of Miss Lula Blanche, eldest daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. John Mitchell Atchison, and Dr. Prentiss Agnew Brown of New Kensington. The ceremony will be solemnized in the First Presbyterian church of Parnassus, of which the father of the bride is pastor. A large number of invitations have been issued. Following the ceremony a reception will be held at the parsonage. Miss Atchison is a recent graduate of Washington seminary. Dr. Brown is one of the rising young practitioners of New Kensington. The young couple will make their future home in that place.

Wedding Cards Are Out.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Hartley have issued invitations for the marriage of their niece, Miss Elizabeth Hartley Mering, and Charles Agnew McClung, which will take place at their home in Fifth avenue, Oakland, on Thursday, June 5. The bride will be attended by two maids, Miss Florence Anderson and Miss Helen Kerr, and T. C. Howard and Murray McClung, a brother of the bridegroom, will be the groomsmen. The guests will include only relatives and a few intimate friends of both the bride and the bridegroom. Mr. McClung is a son of the late Murray McClung, and is a nephew of Judge S. A. McClung. He is a civil engineer with the Carnegie Steel Company.

Card Parties in Sewickley.

A card party was given yesterday afternoon by Mrs. H. L. Howard Blair of Bank street, Sewickley, in honor of Mrs. William Allen Brown, who is a guest of Mrs. G. E. Tener, and Mrs. W. W. The guests numbered 75 and the game was progressive six-hand euchre. The first prize was won by Mrs. Heck, and the second prize by Mrs. Frank Dravo. The lone hand prize was carried off by Mrs. R. J. Cunningham. The house was handsomely decorated, the library in yellow iris, the parlor in lilies of the valley and white carnations—the reception room in blue fleur de lis, and the dining room in pink spring blossoms.

Mrs. R. J. Cunningham of Bank street, Sewickley will entertain at cards at her home tomorrow afternoon. Many guests will be present.

"BLUE MONDAY."

No Use for It Any More.

How good food put a good minister on his feet again is an interesting story. He says: "A little more than a year ago I commenced the use of Grape-Nuts Breakfast Food. At that time I had been suffering from dyspepsia for about five years. I had tried all the remedies my friends told me about, but with no permanent relief.

"My Sabbath duties at that time nearly prostrated me, and the following day I was of no use to myself or to anyone else.

"After beginning the food a change began to take place and gradually the dyspepsia and disturbance left me. Now I have gained twenty pounds and am free from stomach troubles that I suffered so long from.

"I can do twice the amount of work with ease, am well all of the time, and naturally sing the praises of the delicious food that has put me right. I am perfectly willing to have my name appear as indorsing your excellent food, for I know from personal experience of its value." L. R. Danforth, pastor of the First M. E. church, Haverhill, Mass.

GIANTS SHUT OUT WITH ONLY TWO VERY FLUKY HITS

Deacon Phillippe Pitched a Masterly Game of Ball All the Way.

VAN HALTREN WAS HURT

The Giants' Middle Fielder Tried to Break Off a Slide to Second Base and Thus Caused the Accident. Finely Played Game.

If the official scorer of the Pittsburgh baseball club was not a man of pronounced conscientious scruples Deacon Phillippe would this morning hold the record of the first "no hit" game of the season. The Giants were shut out without any runs, however, while the champions accumulated six tallies, and it required a stretching of the scoring rules to work in two hits for the visitors.

It is a conceded fact that here in Pittsburgh the lines laid down for scoring are more closely drawn than in any town in the National league circuit. Visiting teams are treated fairer in that respect than anywhere else. Had yesterday's game been played in any other town outside of Pittsburgh the local pitcher would have been given the benefit of the doubt, and a "no-hit" game recorded. Here the base runner is always given the benefit of a doubt so far as the scoring goes. It is an honorable method at that, because too often errors are too lightly given and fielders are thus made record players, fearing to take a chance on hard hit balls.

Were Very Fluky Hits.

The hits credited yesterday were on balls that should have been handled, but they were not. The first one was a grounder by Bowerman in the seventh inning. The ball should have been an easy one for Phillippe, who laughed at himself for allowing it to get away from him. The ball bounded between the Deacon's legs and rolled over second base, where it was headed off by Burke, who fumbled it just long enough to allow the runner to reach first. It would be pretty hard to score Phillippe an error on the play, but it would require no great stretch of conscience to have charged one up to Burke, who could have fielded the runner out had the play been cleanly made.

The other credited hit was given to Lauder in the eighth inning, when he hit a hot bounder down by third, which Leach gathered in, but he made a bad throw to Bransfield, on which the runner tried to reach third, but was caught by Leach on Bransfield's throw. In this case the contention was that the hit was too hard for Leach to properly handle, and there was a doubt if he could have caught the man at first even if the throw had been a perfect one. Both of these plays are of the kind where the scorer must use his own judgment after considering all of the conditions, and in this case the judgment called for hits, and as such they become the official record.

Van Haltren's Ankle Broken.

It was a great pity that such a pretty game as the one of yesterday should have an unpleasant feature to marr its enjoyment, but it did, and there was not one of the 2,900 spectators who did not give a sigh of regret when George Van Haltren was carried from the playing field by fellow players at the start of the sixth inning. In making a feet first slide to second in that inning Van Haltren seeing the catcher's throw was wild, and there was no necessity for a slide, tried to check himself up, and in doing so his right foot caught in such a way that his ankle was both broken and dislocated. Physicians who were summoned pronounced the injury a serious one, and the player had to be carried from the field.

Deacon Phillippe, who pitched such a masterly game yesterday, did not appear to be exerting himself to any great extent, in fact, he had rather a careless air about him. Still any one who closely watched the balls he was serving up could see that he was in magnificent pitching form. The Deacon had a masterful control of all those shoots and benders which he is the proud possessor of, and the New York batters were as helpless before him as the inhabitants of Martinique during the eruption of Mont Pelee. It wasn't that the Deason was doing a great striking out act, although seven batsmen did fan the air, but the Giant batters could not get the ball safe to save them, and for that the other Pirates must come in for a fair share of praise.

An Ex-Colonel Was on Duty.

Roy Evans, who used to do pitching stunts for Col. Dreyfuss down in Louisville, was on the rubber for the visitors, and outside of one inning, the third, he pitched an exceedingly clever game. In that inning the Pirates scored five runs off five hits and a base on balls. O'Connor started the merry-go-round when, with one out he singled. Deacon Phil went out on a foul fly and things looked blue, but Lefty Davis cheered the spectators up by beating out an infield hit. Conroy got a base on balls, filling the bases. Beaumont singled to right, scoring O'Connor and Davis. Wagner singled to center, scoring Conroy, and Bransfield doubled to right, scoring Wagner with the fifth run. This was a pretty bit of consecutive hitting, and the spectators cheered wildly.

The Pirates sixth and last run did not come until the eighth inning, and O'Connor was responsible for it. With one out he singled, went to third on Phillippe's single to right, and scored on Davis' fly out to Clarke in middle field. The nearest the Giants come to scoring was in the fifth inning, when Lauder reached first after forcing Bowerman out at second, and he stole second and third in succession, but got no further. NOTES OF THE GAME.

That pair of Jacks, O'Connor and Doyle, got after each other in a jawing match in the third inning and they kept it up for some little time, but it ended with honors about even.

Bransfield's two-bagger in the first inning was a bad case of misjudgment on the part of Jones, the Giants' right fielder, who ran around like a chicken with its head chopped off.

Schoolmaster Sam seldom goes out onto the coaching lines that he does not get into a row with the umpires. He got into one with Emslie yesterday for coaching a batter when there was no runner on the bases.

Billy Lauder, the Giants' third baseman, pulled off a pretty bit of base running in the fifth inning, when he stole second and third in succession. He had to slide both times and glided into the base as though he wore rollers on his stomach.

If ever there were two excuses of hits it was the pair which the Giants got credit for yesterday afternoon. The one Bowerman got should have been an easy out and Lauder would have been a victim at first if Leach's throw had been accurate.

Honus Wagner had an odd strike called on him in the seventh inning yesterday. Honus ducked his head to avoid one of Evans shoots and the ball struck the end of his bat and went foul. Umpire Emslie had called a ball, but he was forced to change his decision to a strike.

That's a raw con game O'Connor works on the batters of the opposition. He cries to the pitcher, "right over, now; nobody walks," and as the ball comes sailing in he shrieks out, "hit it." This misleads the batsman, who fires away at the ball and comes within a yard of it. Rowdy worked that gag on several occasions yesterday and he had the grandstanders in a fit of laughter at the batting antics of the opposition.

It didn't look as though Deacon Phil was exerting himself a little bit yesterday; in fact he looked just a bit careless in the box, but he wasn't by a long shot. The Deacon was there with the most puzzling and tantalizing curves any pitcher ever possessed and he had absolute control of them. There never was a prettier pitched game on the local grounds, and it might be remarked that there was never a better played one, as the Deacon's support was almost faultless.

The champions will enjoy their first Sunday layoff of the season next Sunday, and perhaps they are not glad of it. This thing of playing a game here on Saturday, then jumping to Cincinnati or Chicago for a Sunday game, and another hurried jump back to play on Monday, is not what it is cracked up to be. The layoff will give Tommy Leach a chance to go over to Cleveland to see Baby Tommy, and Harry Smith will spend the day with his folks at Massillon, O.

That the batting streak which Rowdy Jack O'Connor sprung with the start of this season was not a fluke was fully demonstrated yesterday when the veteran catcher went through the game with a batting average of an even thousand. He was four times at bat, made three singles and was sent to base on balls once, which gives him a clear record on the day. Rowdy has his old college chum, Chief Zimmer, faded to death in the batting line—in fact the chief is so downhearted that he is ashamed to go in and catch.

Manager Fred Clarke received word yesterday from John T. Brush that he had been suspended for ten days for indulging in a one-round bout with Fred Tenney, and that the suspension will end next Monday, when Manager Fred will once more don the spangles and direct his Pirates from his old position in left field. That story about his retirement from the game caused a laugh among his fellow players, who assert that Fred's farewell will be about as long drawn out as was that of the famous Patti. Fred says himself that its a pretty hard job to give up the spangles.

The accident to Van Haltren yesterday will bring out many stories of his plays on the diamond, but about the queerest one of the lot was made when he essayed to play shortstop for the old time Pirates. It is not recalled what club was playing here, but the score was a tie in the closing innings and a grounder was sent to Van, which he fielded all right, but his throw to first was an awful happening. The ball rolled into a rat hole under the grandstand and the runner got around with the winning tally. Every time that throw was recalled to Van Haltren he indulged in a hearty laugh.

When Captain Doyle walked up to the plate in the ninth inning he shook his bat at Deacon Phil and remarked, "Here's where I shatter your record. The deacon sent in a nice drop which the captain made an awful lunge at, and missed by a yard. Then the Deacon gave him the laugh. The next one O'Connor yelled "hit it," and Captain Jack sent up a weak little foul. Then the leader of the Giants got angry and yelled at Phil, "You're afraid to put it over." The Deacon did put it over. Doyle made another awful lunge, the umpire said three strikes and out, and Captain Jack was honest enough to bow superiority to Phillippe.

The accident which took George Van Haltren out of the game yesterday is very likely to take him out of the game forever. Van Haltren is not a young blood by any means, having been playing professional ball for many years. He was first heard of in California as a pitcher, and was recommended to the Pittsburgh club by Morris and Carroll, and was secured by the local team, but for some reason refused to come here. Instead he joined the Chicago team and pitched for that club for some seasons. He went to Baltimore, where he became an outfielder, and was traded by Ned Hanlon to Pittsburgh for Joe Kelley. From here he went to New York, where he has been a hard working, faithful player for many seasons. "Old Nancy Hanks," as he is called, is one of the players who is a credit to the profession.

Shadyside and High School Today.

The second great battle of the local school diamond will be played this afternoon on the Shadyside grounds between the Pittsburgh High school and Shadyside academy baseball nines. The first game of the season, played at Friendship park, resulted in a victory for Shadyside by a score of 9 to 7. The hardest hitting of the game, however, was done in the grandstand, in a free fight and riot between students of the two schools and a gang of toughs. Shadyside looks to be the favorite for this afternoon's game.

JARVIS WILL NOT RUN.

Wup Medicals Look to Have Honors of Inter Department Meet Sewed Up.

The annual inter-department field and track meet of the Western university will be held this afternoon on Observatory hill, but the hopes of the law department, which has some of the best athletes at college, have been blighted by the impossibility of Frank Jarvis competing. Jarvis had intended to run if the meet was held at Schenley park, but stated yesterday that as he was right in the midst of his law studies and as the law department students were not coming out, he saw no inducement to skamper over the cramped track on the hill in behalf of a lost cause.

Jarvis while at Princeton was one of the most famous sprinters in the country, winning the 100 meter race in the Paris Olympian games. He has not had a running shoe on since however.

The medical department, it is thought, will have a cinch in this afternoon's meet if all the men come out.

Sun Field Helped Johnstown.

JOHNSTOWN, PA., May 22.—(Special.)—Waynesburg college and Johnstown played a beautiful game today, both clubs being on their metal from start to finish. A bad sun field, balls dropped as hits that might otherwise have been caught, was responsible for several of Johnstown's runs. The work of both pitchers was fine, but Hunter received the best support. The same clubs play tomorrow. Score:

Johnstown ....0 0 3 0 3 2 0 0 *—8

And the Winters Got It, Too.

WARREN, PA., May 22.—(Special.)—A large crowd attended the opening of the baseball season here today when the local club defeated the strong Winter Athletic club of Pittsburgh. The visitors were unable to connect with the curves of Mason and were otherwise outplayed by the home team. The work of McClintock, the Warren short stop, was a feature. Score:

Warren ....0 2 3 1 1 0 0 0 2—9

Batteries—Warren, Mason and Stack; Winter A. C., Jones and Lesman.

The Season's Greatest Sale of Fine Clothing.

Immense Purchase of the Notably High-Class Stock of GARSON, MEYER & CO., Rochester, N. Y.

Just the same as a farmer sometimes has occassion to face diminished prices owing to an over-production of the crops, so the wholesale clothiers had to face a surplus owing to overestimating the demand of the passing season, which was a very short one for the wholesaler. This widely and favorably known firm named above came to us with their surplus, because they realized we had the largest outlet between New York and Chicago and could probably help them in their overstocked condition. We promptly made a cash offer for these elegant garments, which at any other time would have been ridiculous, considering the high quality of the attire. To cut the story short, it was accepted and the goods are here. We secured the stock at an enormous concession from the true value, and we will offer it to the buying public at equally startling cuts from the actual worth. Come here today or tomorrow and select a suit which will save you from $4 to $10 according to the price you pay.

WILSON IN FINE FORM FOR BICYCLE RACE

GREAT DAY FOR AUGUST BELMONT AT MORRIS PARK

Two of His Horses, Masterman and Mizzen, Won Their Events.

BETTING VERY LIVELY

King Hanover Was Favorite for the Belmont Stakes, but Could Do No Better Than Third--Advance Guard Beat Heno a Neck.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, May 22.—August Belmont's Masterman, making his first appearance of the year, easily won the thirty-sixth Belmont stakes at Morris park today. Five of the best 3-year-olds in training faced the starter for the event, which was at one mile and three furlongs over the hill. The race also developed some spirited betting, King Hanover, Compute and Masterman all being well played, King Hanover closing favorite at 2 to 1, with Compute second choice and Masterman third in demand, while the others went begging.

August Belmont also scored another easy win with his 2-year-old Mizzen in the Eclipse stakes. He made the running the first furlong, then Dalesman went to the front and led to the dip, where Bullman on Mizzen, let him out and won in a gallop by three lengths. Advance Guard, carrying 129 pounds, won the Jockey club weight for age race, from the favorite, Heno, by a neck. Heno was disqualified for foul and second place was given to Dixieline, making Heno an also ran. Summaries:

NOTES OF THE SCHOOL TEAMS.

The East Liberty A. C. will play the Oakland A. C. at Friendship park immediately after the High school contest.

The intercity High school game at Friendship park Saturday will be called at 2:30 to let the Cleveland boys catch an early train.

There is great confidence in the camp of the Cleveland High school boys. It is reported that they are already counting the score in the city on the lake.

"Red" Youngson surely has his eye on the ball. In the last five games he has made a total of 15 hits, some of them for extra bases. He intends to try for some of the academy windows this afternoon.

Davidson for Cleveland High school is a clever man behind the bat. His fine work is frequently mentioned, and his services have already been sought for by some of the eastern colleges. Out of six games this season, but five men stole the second bag on him.

Headrick seems to be the find of the season for High school. His work behind the bat is very good, far better than any other that had preceded him. The High school team with a good backstop is now 50 per cent stronger than during the earlier part of the season. A base on balls is no longer good for a three-base hit. Headrick is nailing them all when they try to steal.

The High school boys are in high hope of winning the second game of the series with Shadyside this afternoon. The team has struck its gait, and will be winning from now on. A rooters' meeting was held at school yesterday, and a club formed under the leadership of Profs. Rynearson, Rankin and Chatley, which promises to be very much in evidence at the game. This organization will also be active at the Cleveland High school game Saturday.

The Uniondale Reserves will line up against the Bessemer Terrace A. C. on Bessemer Terrace Athletic club grounds Saturday, May 24, at 2:30 p. m. The battery for Uniondale Reserves will be Blausser and Rhinehart. The Uniondale Reserves was badly disappointed last Saturday on account of the Nationals A. C. canceling their game apparently without any good reason.

SPEEDY RIDING ON ALLEGHENY BICYCLE TRACK

Floyd McFarland Goes a Mile in Training Under the World's Record.

LESTER WILSON IS FAST

Got in from Baltimore Yesterday and Did Some Training at Recreation. Down to Weight and Rides a Sixth Mile Lapp in 14 Seconds.

With Lester Wilson, the local crack of the professional circuit, sprinting around at a 14-second gait for the lap and Floyd McFarland, the giant sprinter, following with his powerful motor machines, a fifth of a second beneath the world's paced record for the mile, it was easy to believe yesterday that the new track at Recreation park, Allegheny, will have an auspicious opening Saturday night, and that the visiting pedal pushers know what they are talking about when they vote the Allegheny track the fastest in the world.

Though handicapped by the scrapes received in a bad fall, McFarland finished ten miles of training with the last mile in 1 minute and 25 seconds, while the recognized record held by Harry Elkes is but 1 minute and 25 1-5 seconds. Floyd's mile in training, of course, is not official, but it goes to show that a new world's record will be established here Saturday night, barring accidents. It will be like picking grapes, according to McFarland.

Wilson's Fast Training.

Lester Wilson, who arrived yesterday morning from Baltimore with his two pacing machines and his fast training around the track drew the biggest audience since the track has been in riding shape. Though the grand stand is not in shape yet there was a grand stand bevy of fair maidens with accompanying swains, marveling at the powerful physique of the Pittsburgh boy as he flew around the turns at angles that looked like geometrical figures on a school blackboard. One of the watches caught one of the laps—a sixth of a mile—for Wilson in 14 seconds, and as this would be 1:24 for the mile, his followers are feeling confident.

Wilson says that he has been doing the hardest kind of training and that his weight of 148 stripped is his lightest since he has been following the professional circuit. Though he was not quite accustomed to the track yesterday he was full of confidence and thinks that he will be in shape to give Tommy Hall, the English champion, the battle of his life on Saturday night.

Hall Looks Like a Midget.

Wilson is not tall, but Hall looks like a midget beside him. The Englishman weighs but 127 with his clothes on, but is a little Hercules for strength and endurance. The race on Saturday night is to be five miles, behind the most powerful motor machines in the world.

The entries for the amateur races for the opening night closed last night. Among the men entered are some fast riders and both the events are likely to be hotly contested. The entries are as follows:

One mile novice—Charles Burgum, Pittsburgh; Wilkie Hall, Allegheny; C. F. Garber, Monongahela; E. S. Neill, Monongahela; William Wallace, Erie; Henry Bupp, Allegheny.

Two-mile, handicap—Henry Bupp, Allegheny; William Wallace, Erie; Edward Neill, Monongahela; C. F. Garber, Monongahela; Charles V. Reed, Pittsburgh; W. A. Hoffellett; Pittsburgh; Harry Brown, Pittsburgh; Charles B. Leonard, Pittsburgh; Fred A. Anderson, Wilkinsburg; Wilkie Hall, Allegheny.

Dawson Team Wants Games.

R·I·P·A·N·S
I have been taking Ripans Tabules for six months and find myself so much improved that I can hardly realize myself to be the same person. For a year I had been complaining with my head and the loss of appetite. I had no desire to eat and suffered so severely with the sick headache and felt so tired that I found it hard to go to my work. The doctor told me I had what they call nervous heacache, and I would have to look for a quieter place to work. One day an old lady was telling about her grandson who was using Ripans. She gave me a box of them to try. I did so, with good results, and I never felt better in my life than I do now.

SENATORS SEEK FOR AGREEMENT ON RECIPROCITY

Leaders Complete a Tentative Bill, but Are Not Ready to Publish It.

HOUSE CHANGES DOOMED

Senator Hoar Delivers His Expected Philipic Against the Government's Philippine Policy, Contrasting It With Cuba's Treatment.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
603 Fifteenth St., N. W.,
WASHINGTON, D. C., May 22.

Frequent conferences were held among Republican senators today to seek common ground for agreement on the Cuban reciprocity bill. The leaders in charge of the bill have planned the general outlines of a tentative measure, but before disclosing it are trying to secure adherence of a majority of Republicans.

There is reason to hope for an early agreement by a Republican majority of the senate on a Cuban reciprocity bill. The opposition cannot be carried to the point of defeating a bill that is backed by a Republican majority.

The main propositions discussed by the Republican senators today are these: Straight reciprocity, preferably at 25 per cent, but 20 per cent is all that seems essential to an agreement; the existing differential of sugar to remain undisturbed; an extension of the operation of the concession from the time proposed by the house for five years; elimination of the embarassing labor and immigration provisions of the house.

The senate bill, as now framed, proposes to endow the president of the United States with wide latitude in the enforcement of the reciprocity arrangements.

Hoar's Philippine Philipic.

A notable contribution to the discussion of the Philippine question was made in the senate by Mr. Hoar. He denounced the attitude of the government in the Philippines as one of the most wicked and foolish chapters in American history. He urged that the United States should withdraw from the islands and permit the people there to erect their own government.

When it had been determined to resort to force in the Philippines, he said, the government took upon itself the natural consequences of that decision. The result of the conflict of arms of such a character inevitably was that there would be cruelty on one side and retaliation by cruelty on the other; and the responsibility rested upon those who made the policy.

This government had erected a republic in Cuba and a despotism in the Philippines. Six hundred millions of treasure and 10,000 American lives had been sacrificed in that endeavor.

Two Policies Contrasted.

"What have your ideals cost you?" inquired Mr. Hoar. "For the Philippine islands you have had to repeal the Declaration of Independence; for Cuba you never had to reaffirm and give it new lustre. For the Philippine islands you have had to convert the Monroe doctrine into a doctrine of mere selfishness; for Cuba you have acted on it and vindicated it. In Cuba you have the eternal gratitude of a free people; in the Philippine islands you have the hatred and sullen submission of a subjugated people. From Cuba you have brought home nothing but glory; from the Philippines you have brought home nothing of glory."

He sharply arraigned Gen. Funston for the methods he had pursued in the capture of Aguinaldo.

CHARLES W. METZGAR.

SIBLEY MAKING CHANGES.

One of the Postmasters Recommended by C. W. Stone to Make Way for a Successor.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 22.—(Special.)—In the appointment by the president today of David W. Morgan to be postmaster at Franklin, Venango county, can be found the first principal change made by Representative Sibley among the postmasters of his district. The incumbent, Elisha W. Smith, was an appointee of ex-Representative C. W. Stone and one of five postmasters whose appointments led to the retirement of Mr. Stone from active political life. Mr. Smith was a representative of the C. W. Stone faction in Franklin and that faction was always opposed to Sibley. Mr. Morgan was postmaster under President Harrison.

The other Pennsylvania appointments were William M. Henderson of Brookville, who was recommended by Representative Jack, and Alexander Y. Jones at Renova recommended by Representative Deemer to succeed Robert N. Roberts.

Representative Evans has recommended the re-establishment of the postoffice at Ledgeville, Cambria county, with Adam List as postmaster.

These postmasters were appointed today: Pennsylvania—Nossville, Huntingdon county, J. A. Woods. West Virginia—Camp, Doddridge county, H. Mason; Talmannsville, Upshur county, Leroy Carter.

On July 1 the salary of the postmaster at Uniontown, Pa., will be increased from $2,500 to $2,600 a year.

TWO PENSION MEASURES.

One Fathered by Quay, the Other by Penrose, Considered by Committee.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 22.—The senate committee on pensions has been giving a hearing on two pension bills, one introduced by Penrose and the other by Quay. Penrose's bill grants a per diem pension equal to 1 cent a day for every day a soldier served in the army or sailor in the navy, between March 4, 1861, and July 1, 1866. Quay's bill provides that no widow's pension bill shall be less than $12 a month, and also directs that all officers and men who have served in the army and navy shall be granted pensions when 50 years of age and over at different rates according to age, and also increases all pensions now below $12 a month.

Pensions have been granted to the following Western Pennsylvania applicants: William Strothers, Pittsburgh, $8; Alonzo Randolph, Pittsburgh, $8; Thomas McKee, New Castle, $8; Charles Burkhart, Pittsburgh, $8; Clinton V. Lewis, Amity, $8; David S. Cummins, Canonsburg, $12; John Moore, Washington, $12; James Moore, Johnstown, $35.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 22.—(Special.)—Among the delegates here in attendance upon the convention of the American Society of Engineers are:

Pittsburgh—A. A. Aiken, George S. Davidson, E. Swensson, Morris Knowles, J. N. Chester, W. M. Wilkins, W. W. Card and Robert A. Cummings; Allegheny, Charles Davis; Canton, O., L. E. Akron's Belt Railroad Is Created Here

THE ANN ARBOR DEAL IS IMPORTANT HERE

It Will Give Pittsburgh a New Coal and Ore Route to the Northwestern Fields.

Pittsburgh will gain much from the acquisition of the Ann Arbor road by the Wabash, as announced yesterday.

President Ramsey states that the syndicate which has come into control is friendly to the Wabash interests. The acquired line extends from Frankfort, Mich., on the eastern shore of Lake Michigan, direct to Toledo, a distance of 291 miles, connecting at Toledo with the Wabash. Steamers are operated to several lake points having important railroad connections. In the purchase of the railroads the steamship lines are included.

Speaking of the matter President Ramsey said: "The northwest, particularly the iron district, needs coal and coke and has had difficulty in getting its wants supplied. The Wheeling & Lake Erie and the Pittsburgh, Carnegie & Western acting in conjunction with the Ann Arbor will be able to supply the necessary fuel direct from the Pittsburgh and the West Virginia coal fields to the great iron region of northwestern Michigan. The ore and other products of this region will find a natural outlet over the same lines to the manufacturing centers of the east. The syndicate has purchased enough of the stock to make the control of the road certain, precisely in the same manner that the West Virginia Central, the Western Maryland and the Pittsburgh, Carnegie & Western are held."

As to the outcome of the contest for the possession of the Columbus, Shawnee & Hocking Valley railroad, for which the Wabash is believed to be the leading contestant, nothing entirely certain can be said yet. The road has been ordered sold under a decree of foreclosure, the upset price being $2,700,000. The road is one of the constituent parts of the Columbus, Sandusky & Hocking, of which the Wabash is said to seek control.

B. & O. Man Advanced.

The appointment of C. B. Gorsuch to the position of trainmaster of the Pittsburgh division of the Baltimore & Ohio is announced. He has won the promotion, having been with that company for 15 years and having worked up from operator. This is the first opportunity for the new general superintendent at Pittsburgh, L. G. Hass, to show the bona fide intentions of the company to fill important places from the ranks of the Baltimore & Ohio men. Mr. Gorsuch succeeds F. B. Rogers, who has been transferred to another position in the operating department. For three years he has been dispatcher of the Pittsburgh and Connellsville division, coming here from Baltimore. In Baltimore he was associated with W. T. Lechlider, who is now chief clerk in the general superintendent's office here.

Pennsy Figuring on "Per Diem."

The car accounting and transportation officials of the Pennsylvania system will meet in Pittsburgh on Monday next to consider details of the plan of charging for cars in service on foreign lines and of handling foreign cars on the Pennsylvania lines, under the new system commonly known as "per diem," which goes into effect July 1. Many matters of detail will have to be worked out before the new system becomes satisfactory. If it is found as practicable as the leading railroad men of the country believe, the loss of time and service due to the present negligence in handling cars will be so greatly obviated that the service will be increased fully one-fourth.

JAMES M'CREA.
President of the New Akron & Barberton Belt Railroad Formed in This City Yesterday.

Annual Meetings Called.

In accordance with a provision of its charter the Reading company is advertising in two Pittsburgh papers, one of which is The Gazette, the holding of its annual meeting in Philadelphia on June 3. The re-election of the board and the choice of President Baer for another term is thought to be certain. The annual meeting of the Pennsylvania northwest system of the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburgh is also advertised in The Gazette, to take place June 3. Nothing of importance is expected to develop.

FOUR LINES UNITE IN CONTROL OF NEW ROAD

Erie, Northern Ohio, B. & O. and Pennsylvania Launch the Akron & Barberton Belt Railroad.

The Akron & Barberton Belt railroad was created yesterday in this city at a meeting by James McCrea, first vice president of the Pennsylvania lines west; E. B. Thomas, chairman of the board of the Erie railroad, and Oscar G. Murray, vice president of the Baltimore & Ohio. The new road will be owned jointly by the Pennsylvania company, the Erie railroad, the Baltimore & Ohio and the Vanderbilts. W. H. Newman, president of the New York Central, who represents the Vanderbilt interests in this matter, was unable to be present.

The new company will have a capital of $100,000, divided into 1,000 shares of $100 par each. Of this stock $25,000 will be held by each of the four interests. Under the organization yesterday James McCrea was made president and S. B. Liggett, secretary of the Pennsylvania lines west, secretary. The directors are Messrs. McCrea, Newman, Thomas and Murray.

About 15 miles of the road are already built, including a line joining Akron and Barberton, with branches in the towns. In addition there are several spurs and extensions planned to gain entrance into all the important industries located nearby. As the property is owned jointly there will be no longer any fighting for rights of way. No announcement was made yesterday as to the operating officials of the new company. It was said that no bond issue is at present contemplated.

NO MEETING WAS HELD.

Idlewood Citizens Did Not Evince Much Interest in Township Library.

The meeting of Idlewood citizens called for last night to take action for the retention of the Chartiers township library when Idlewood becomes a part of Crafton next month, did not materialize. Only seven citizens were at the schoolhouse and three of these were trustees of the association representing Idlewood's portion of the township. The trustees were inclined to think the citizens did not want to retain the library, judging from their non-attendance, but decided to call another meeting for next Tuesday evening.

If this meeting does not dispose of the matter the library will revert to the township, or at least nine-tenths of it will. Sentiment favors its retention. Next Thursday night the last meeting of the present school board will be held and the action of the citizens must be passed upon by the board before the matter is taken into court.

PECTORAL
There's nothing so bad for a cough as coughing!
There's nothing so good for a cough as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

You can cough yourself right into bronchitis, pneumonia, or consumption.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral quickly cures new coughs; old coughs, also, even the old, settled coughs of bronchitis. Your doctor will tell you more about this.

"I had a fearfully bad cough which made me very sick. I began to take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. In a few hours the pain left my breast, and soon the cough stopped."—JOE CRUSE, Little Rock, Ark.

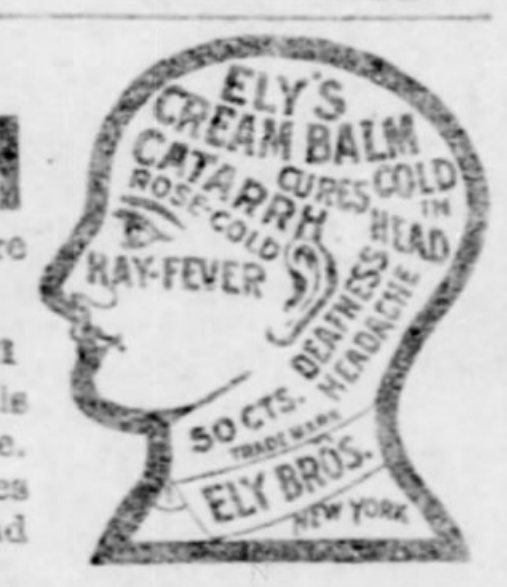
Dangerous Use of Strong Purgatives

Pills and bitter waters which act quickly upon the bowels, irritate and destroy the mucuous linings of the stomach and bowels. A continued use of such remedies inflames the stomach and bowels. The use of the genuine imported Carlsbad Sprudel Salt is highly recommended because its action is due solely to its solvent and stimulating properties, without irritating the stomach.

The Carlsbad Sprudel Salt

is a remedy prepared by nature. It cures constipation, liver and kidney complaints, catarrh of the stomach, gouty and rheumatic conditions. It effects a cure without weakening the system.

Every bottle of genuine Carlsbad Sprudel Salt bears the signature of EISNER & MENDELSON CO., Sole Agents, New York. Beware of imitations.



Nasal CATARRH

In all its stages there should be cleanliness.

Ely's Cream Balm cleanses, soothes and heals the diseased membrane. It cures catarrh and drives away a cold in the head quickly.

Cream Balm is placed into the nostrils, spreads over the membrane and is absorbed. Relief is immediate and a cure follows. It is not drying—does not produce sneezing. Large Size, 50 cents at Druggists or by mail; Trial Size, 10 cents by mail.

BRIGHTON ROAD LOTS

The Kleber Plan, in Allegheny.

The Finest Lots in the Two Cities. Adjoining the Brighton Country Club.

Only 25 minutes from the business center of Pittsburgh.

These desirable lots are not situated in the middle of a farm; they are in the heart of the very best residential district of Allegheny, running 600 feet along Brighton road and 600 feet back toward California ave., adjoining and being a part of the property until recently occupied by the Allegheny Country Club.

This property is level, lies high and dry and is free from the city smoke and dirt, being, in fact, cleaner and healthier than Bellevue, Avalon, the East End and other nearby suburbs.

The Brighton road and California ave. cars pass by this property, requiring about 25 minutes to reach the business center of Pittsburgh. The property is located about half way between Allegheny and Bellevue.

Don't Wait

Buy a lot for investment or a home. Reference to the above plan will show that these lots are amply large for roomy houses and lawns.

Considering the high quality of these most desirable home sites, the prices at which they can be bought are the most reasonable that were ever put on such gilt-edge property. Plans mailed on application. 'Phone 1528 Grant and 614 Main, or call on

BRISK DEMAND FOR THOSE NEW STEEL BONDS

They Are Being Taken for Investment, Not for Speculative Purposes.

PITTSBURGH BUYING THEM

Rail Mills Full for 1903, and Structural Plants Rapidly Nearing a Similar Condition—The Hardware Combination Abandoned.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, May 22.—Several Wall street houses having close relations with the United States Steel Corporation report that there has developed a very gratifying demand for the new 5 per cent bonds. This is all the more satisfactory to the management of the combine because theoretical critics are still pronouncing their misgivings as to whether the bond issue is sound finance, and whether it had not been better to make the flotation an office matter instead of engaging the services of an underwriting syndicate.

One house that operates largely for Pittsburgh interests has taken upward of $500,000 worth of the bonds this week for the account of Pittsburgh and Boston investors. The purchasers are said to be interests that are familiar with the affairs of the United States Steel Corporation and who bought the bonds as an investment. Indeed, there has been very little speculative buying. Application will soon be made to list the bonds on the New York stock exchange, and this alone will bring them more favorably to the attention of the public.

Rail Mills Full for 1903.

A prominent steel rail manufacturer said today that all of the principal steel rail mills of the country are already sure of sufficient business to keep them busy throughout the whole of 1903. Many thousands of tons of this year's business will have to be carried over into 1903, more, indeed, than was ever carried over before from one year to another; and with this business to start on only a moderate amount of new contracts will be necessary to give the mills another full year.

Similar conditions prevail in structural steel and steel plate departments. The United States Steel Corporation is now booking orders for structural steel to be delivered in 1903, and its constituent plants already are from three to six months behind with their contracts. A moderate volume of fresh business placed in the first and second quarters of 1903 will insure the structural steel and steel plate mills all the business they can manage during that year.

The United States government is taking a large amount of steel plates in connection with its naval construction. Never before has the demand for this product been better, nor were the companies ever before booked so far ahead.

Hardware Combine Abandoned.

It was stated on good authority today that it is not likely that a second effort will be made to combine the hardware jobbing interests of the country. The deal is regarded by the trade as abandoned, which has given rise to a feeling of relief in hardware circles. The amount of cash necessary to put through the deal, together with the withdrawal of the main supports of the combination, were the chief factors that brought about the collapse of the project. Most of the concerns interested insisted that their plants be taken on a cash basis. These propositions were rejected on the ground that the promoters were not in a position to raise such a large sum of money.

Tight Situation in Pig Iron.

Rogers, Brown & Co., in their weekly review of the pig iron situation, say:

The business in pig iron continues to be confined to summer and fall deliveries, and as offerings are extremely light the volume of business is restricted. Most of the furnace companies are offering nothing at all, even declining business from old customers in urgent need. When it is considered that orders so declined are at prices from $3 to $5 a ton more than the average realized on the old orders, it can be seen that furnacemen put the performance of contract obligations ahead of the consideration of profit.

The anthracite strike will, if prolonged, materially curtail the output of pig iron in the Lehigh and Schuylkill districts. Furnaces there are accustomed to use about two-thirds coal and one-third coke. These proportions have been reversed since the strike commenced, but coal cannot be dispensed with entirely, in many cases the plants not being equipped for use of all coke. One or two furnaces have been blown out, and each week the strike continues will see two or three more added to the idle list. Coming at a time when every carload is urgently needed by the foundries and mills, this curtailment is very unfortunate.

Considerable relief is had along the eastern seaboard by importations of Scotch pig. The tendency of prices in British markets, however, is upward, and freights also are stiffening. The various steel products, too, are coming in increasing volume. But for foreign supplies, consumers in the east would be in an especially bad way.

There is little, if any, change in prices. Fancy figures are heard for small lots for immediate shipment, but the weight of influence of all large makers and sellers is against any further advance in prices. No interest is taken yet in next year's business; but when it is conclusively shown that the capacity for this year is oversold, transactions for the first part of next year will begin.

New Consolidation in Lead.

It comes from a trustworthy source that Morton Trust Company interests, Thomas F. Ryan, the Guggenheim Exploration Company, and others, are planning a consolidation of the principal lead manufacturing concerns of the United States. If the movement is successful it will include the principal lead, shot and white lead establishments. The industry is an extensive one, and it is reasonable to suppose that the consolidated company will be capitalized up in the millions. It is understood that the National Lead Company and the Union Lead & Oil Company are interested in the deal.

NEWS FROM THE MINES

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, May 22.—Spring rains are practically over in Southern Oregon, writes a correspondent at Baker City, and the water is lowering in the ditches to such a degree that most of the hydraulic placer mines will close down and begin their annual clean-up in a short time. The harvest of placer gold from Southern Oregon will be 50 per cent greater this season than ever before.

A correspondent at Salt Lake writes that new developments have largely increased the value of the Highland Boy at Bingham. Several new ore bodies are exposed in the lower workings.

Some leasers in the Chase, near Central City, Col., have lately been doing well on their block of ground, one shipment going as high as $300 a ton, and their milling ores have been of fair grade.

Aspen (Col.) is expected to make great progress this season. The Ruby will start next month with a larger force than usual.

A smelter and complete plant for treating copper ore has arrived in Grants Pass, Ore., for the Sowell copper mines of Waldo. These mines were purchased several months ago by the Mountain Copper Company, which has extensively developed them.

The output for April of the Great Northern Mining and Development Company, which owns the Gilt Edge mines in Fergus county, Mont., was in the neighborhood of $25,000.

The Metal Market.

The local market for tin was somewhat easier, with spot closing at $30 00@30 20, and the London market with spot unchanged at £136 5s and futures 10s lower at £131 15s. Copper was steady here, but less active, though the prices were a shade better. The idea, however, is that the keen edge of the market has been dulled by a let-up in the bull manipulation. Local prices at the close were as follows: Standard spot to August, $11 80@12 00; lake, $12 50@12 65; electrolytic, $12 32½@12 50, and casting, $12 25@12 50. The London market at first advanced 7s 6d; but this was lost and final prices for spot and futures stood at £53 or net unchanged. Lead was steady here at the unchanged price of $4 12½. At London a decline of 1s 3d was noted, closing at £11 11s 3d. Spelter was firmer with spot scarce at $4 60. At London spelter was quiet and unchanged at £18 10s. The local market for iron was quiet and unchanged. Pig iron warrants remained more or less nominal. No. 1 foundry northern, $19 50@20 50; No. 2 foundry northern, $19 50@20 50; No. 1 foundry southern, $18 50@19 50; No. 1 foundry southern soft, $18 50@19 50. Foreign iron markets were also unchanged. Glasgow closing at 53s 10d and Middlesboro at 49s.

The Wall Street Market Was Irregular

ANXIETY OVER COAL STRIKE IS MORE MARKED

Some of the Steel Stocks Heavy in Tone as a Consequence.

AMAL. COPPER STRONG

Advancing Tendency of the Raw Metal Also Affects American Smelting and Refining and National Lead.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, May 22.—Today's stock market was extremely irregular throughout and closed with that tendency rather emphasized. The same stocks changed their course in some cases, and the prevailing disposition of the speculation was hard to distinguish, and was, in fact, much confused and mixed. The anxiety over the coal strike was rather deeper, on account of the implied threat of the engineers, firemen and pump-runners in the anthracite mines to come out unless an eight-hour day is granted them. This would bring the struggle to an acute stage, as the safety of the mines is dependent upon this work being done.

Some of the steel stocks were heavy in tone as a result of the effect of the coal strike, which is beginning to be felt in that industry. This did not prevent a jump of 10 points in Lackawanna and a late spurt in Delaware & Hudson. The culmination of the recent extended rise in Canadian Pacific and its sharp reaction naturally had some sympathetic influence upon the rest of the market.

Set-Back in Canadian Pacific.

There was no news to account for the set-back, any more than there has been to account for the rise, and the movement seemed to be due purely to speculative profit-taking. The late break in the stock to below 133 helped to unsettle the close. A break of 6 points in Ann Arbor preferred was probably the result of the settlement of control of that property. The United States Rubber stocks suffered from the poor financial showing of the company for the past year. St. Paul offered a strong leadership for the grain carriers, but it was not followed with avidity and Union Pacific was rather persistently heavy, offsetting the effect of St. Paul's advance of 2⅝. The news from the crop region was considered encouraging. Another center of strength was Amalgamated Copper. The gains in the American Smelting stocks and in National Lead were allied to this—all being the outgrowth of the advancing tendency of raw copper. The meeting of support for silver is a benefit to the smelting stocks.

Interest in Small Railroads.

The speculative interest in small railroads keeps alive, and was fostered today by the rumors of the acquisition of the Columbus, Shawnee & Hocking in the interest of the Wabash, authoritatively denied, and of a new combination of Harriman railroads, including a number of smaller properties, for which no official sanction could be obtained.

The money market continued quite easy with call loans ruling at 4 per cent or lower and with the sterling exchange market showing no disposition to advance again. The Bank of France statement shows no change in the plethoric condition of capital at that great money center, which is now the most important source of supply both for London and New York. New York exchange at Chicago showed a further reaction today and the movement of currency from that point to New York is believed to be about ended. The market closed active and extremely irregular.

Bonds were in fair demand and firm in tone. Total sales, par value, $2,525,000. United States bonds were unchanged on the last call.

WALL STREET FEATURES.

Total sales for the day, 615,740 shares.

Implied threat of anthracite engineers, firemen and pump-runners made the market anxious.

Rumors of the absorption of small railroads by Harriman interests stimulated speculation.

Money market continued easy.

McIntyre went out in command of the Sunshine tonight when she left for Memphis. Capt. Ross, who has been in command, will go back to the Hattie Brown, the boat which he previously commanded. Packet business continues brisk.

Finley and tow arrived from New Orleans at 7 a. m. and laid up at Jeffersonville. The Transit arrived from West Point with the two barges of coal sunk there by the Exporter in a storm some time ago.

COAL CRAFT LEAKING.

Warm Weather Is Causing the Seams to Open.

The warm weather of the past few days has started river craft to leaking and the landing men are being given much extra work in keeping coal craft free of water. Some of the towboats have found it necessary to raise steam so as to furnish power to keep loaded craft pumped out.

A rise would stop the leaking to a certain extent, for muddy water is always beneficial in closing crevices. Forecaster Frank Ridgway stated last night that the chances are that there will be showers today.

DAVIS ISLAND DAM—The stage of water at 9 o'clock last night was 4.5 feet and falling a little.

News of the Rivers.

The towboat J. B. Finley, coming northward, has 19 pieces and may quit at Louisville on her arrival there.

The towboat Twilight sank a flat of coal in the Monongahela river near the abutments at the City farm. It can be raised.

The towboat Hunter No. 2 yesterday went to the bank and will stay there until there is a coal shipping stage of water in the rivers.

Capt. Thomas C. Hockridge of the government fleet and Capt. George Clark of Cairo, Ill., were admitted to membership in Harbor No. 28.

Among the big towboats now climbing up the Mississippi are the J. B. Finley, W. W. O'Neil, J. B. Williams, Harry Brown and Boaz, all Pittsburgh steamers.

Capt. Koger's new boat being built at Howard's shipyard will be launched soon, and when finished will be one of the best boats in the St. Louis and Tennessee river trade.

Business was lively yesterday on the Monongahela river front, the various packets taking out fine freight trips. There were several collisions of wagons and one or two overturned their loads.

Fishermen whose camps are along the Ohio, 12 miles below New Albany, say they are catching Potomac shad, the fruit possibly of that species of fish that were planted in the Ohio many years ago.

Victor Ehrhardt, the Cincinnati diver, has been sent for and is expected to go to work raising the sunken I. C. Woodward. The boat is lying straight up and down the river at Redstone, on the Monongahela.

According to report, Capt. Bryce Purcell of Cincinnati is an applicant for the position of supervising inspector of steam vessels of the Pittsburgh and Cincinnati district. Capt. Purcess is a Cincinnati and New Orleans steamboatman.

The Greenwood and the Lorena were reported last night as being on good time. It is not thought that the boats will have any trouble in reaching Pittsburgh. The Lorena lays over until tomorrow afternoon, when she goes to Zanesville.

The gas leak in the main which crosses the Ohio river at Jacks Run, which has been causing the steamboatmen some concern, was stopped yesterday by Diver S. W. Carpenter. The line will be taken up shortly and replaced by a new one.

The Alvin Sand Company may build a new steamer in the near future and if one is constructed for this company it will be a towboat. The new T. J. Garlick yesterday started to dig sand in the Allegheny river just above the Union bridge.

A horse which is said to have been stolen from a man named Gullett at the "Half Moon" farm near Steubenville was captured yesterday in Pittsburgh and shipped home on the steamer Bessie Smith. The man who is alleged to have taken the animal was placed in jail.

A colored man sat for several hours yesterday afternoon in the hot sun which beat down upon the Pittsburgh and Morgantown wharfboat and with hook and line endeavored to catch fish. He did not receive a bite. It is something unusual for a person to fish from a city wharfboat.

The towboat Oakland, northward bound, yesterday passed Evansville. The Oakland will come up the Ohio river as far as possible. Capt. G. W. Thomas of C. Jutte & Co. is of the opinion that the steamer will be able to come as far as Marietta, unless she meets a substantial rise, when she will come on through to Pittsburgh.

Bids On Bonds Opened.

CINCINNATI, May 22.—The Cincinnati sinking fund commissioner today at noon opened bids for $8,000,000 of 3½ per cent Cincinnati Southern railway bonds, 30 to 50 years. The railway from Cincinnati to Chattanooga, 339 miles, is owned by the city of Cincinnati and the bonds are backed by both railway and city. The bonds refund an old issue that matures July 1. The highest bid was by Harvey Fisk & Sons of New York, and the First National bank of Cincinnati, $103 81. Among others bidding for the whole amount were the Union Trust Company of Cincinnati and Speyer & Co., New York, $103 65. Railroads Still Buying Blocks of Real Estate

PROPERTY ON PENN AVENUE BRINGS $65,000

Mary J. Lanahan Buys the Messler Holdings at Nos. 938 and 940.

FT. WAYNE DEAL OF $70,000

Carson Street Properties Valued at $54,000 Change Hands—A $15,000 Sale in East End—Fine Houses Planned for Early Building.

Another purchase of Penn avenue property, amounting to $65,000, has just been made through the Real Estate Trust Company. The purchaser is Mrs. Mary J. Lanahan, who secures the two lots known as Nos. 938 and 940, formerly owned by the heirs of T. B. Messler. The lots have a combined frontage of 40 feet on the south side of Penn avenue and extend back a distance of 110 feet to Exchange alley. The improvements consist of two brick houses of 10 rooms, which are occupied as dwellings. The price paid for the property, $1,625 a front foot, is considered very reasonable, in view of other sales that have been made along the avenue within the past six months. The property adjoins the T. C. Jenkins lot and is near the Phipps and the Keech buildings. This section of the avenue seems destined to become soon a leading wholesale district. Another large deal is pending for property only a short distance away, which if consummated will result in the building of a wholesale house this year. No improvements are contemplated at present on the Messler property, which was bought for an investment.

Ft. Wayne Buys on Federal Street.

The Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago railway has purchased the Letitia Robinson properties in Federal street, Allegheny, for a price approximating $70,000. The lots, which measure together 48x80 feet, are situated in the east side of the street, directly across from the Fort Wayne station. The two three-story brick blocks are occupied by Max Klein, wholesale liquor, and by the confectionery store of E. Maginn. A deal for the property has been pending for some time, but owing to a dispute among the owners it was necessary to appoint an administrator who could make the sale. His bargain with the railroad has now been ratified by the courts in Delaware county, where Mrs. Robinson lives, but is still subject to the decision of the orphans court in this city. Motheral & Lea were the attorneys for the owners. The work of razing the old buildings along the Fort Wayne and West Penn tracks is progressing rapidly and by fall a great change will be manifest in the appearance of Federal street near the crossing. Rumors that the proposed Union station will be located on the property just bought can not be confirmed, although this is the site said to have been favored by the company officials.

P., V. & C. R. R. Ousts a Brewery.

During the past few days five properties in Carson street have been sold for a total consideration of about $54,000. The Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston railway has bought from Thomas Louther the property at the southwest corner of Carson and Seventh streets for $12,000. The lot measures 25x100 feet and has erected on it a three story brick building now known as the Hotel Bertha.

Adjoining this property on the west is the lot of the John Hauck Brewing Company, of Cincinnati, which measures 44x100 feet. A short time ago this company began the erection of a warehouse on the property and one story is already up. The property is said to be held at about $18,000, but the deal has not been closed owing to a dispute between the buyer and seller about the contractor's claim, which is said to be about $12,000. That the property is to be acquired for railroad purposes is known, however, from the fact that the masons have stopped work on the warehouse and that the Hauck company has purchased the three properties at Nos. 716, 718 and 720, Carson street.

A $30,000 Warehouse Planned.

The first two properties, which have a frontage of 50 feet and a depth of 100 feet, were secured from Thomas Miller for $16,500. The buildings are two-story bricks occupied by the National hotel and a grocery. No. 720, 25x100 feet, was formerly owned by Mrs. Rachel Leonard, who sold it for $5,000. It is improved with a two-story frame house in the front and a one-story frame in the rear. Plans are now being prepared by Architect F. C. Sauer for a liquor warehouse and stables to cover the three lots. The buildings will be three-story bricks and will cost about $30,000. By the purchase of the Louther and Hauck properties the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston railroad gets title to all the property on the south side of Carson street between the bridge and Seventh street. The work of elevating the tracks has already proceeded to these lots and will be extended to the corner in the near future.

C. H. Halcomb, president of the Crucible Steel Company, yesterday secured the deed from George Bros. for the four acres in Beechwood boulevard near Fifth avenue, which he recently purchased from Mrs. Mary Thaw for $125,000. It was announced when the deal was made that Mr. Halcomb would erect a residence to cost $75,000, but this project has been postponed indefinitely.

Two $20,000 Houses.

John Liggett will soon begin the erection of two high-class residences in Howe street from plans prepared by Architect T. H. Scott. The houses will be built in the colonial style with a hardwood finish throughout, and will cost $20,000 each. Bids on their erection will be received Monday. The same architect will take bids Monday on an $8,000 brick and shingle cottage for L. G. Young, at Sheraden.

Architect S. F. Heckert has awarded the contract to H. G. Cameron for three colonial brick houses to be built for the Security Investment Company, in Westinghouse park. They will be finished throughout in hardwood and provided with all the latest conveniences. The cost is about $30,000. The same architect is preparing plans for the St. Gladislaus Roman Catholic church, at Natrona, Pa. This will be a brick structure, costing about $25,000. Architect Heckert has also awarded the contract to George Nichol for an addition to the St. Joseph Roman Catholic church at Bloomfield, to cost $8,000.

ANOTHER BALK ON ASPHALT.

Empire Company Is Again Halted and New Bids Will Be Asked.

Director McCandless and Recorder Brown yesterday threw out the bids received for asphalt street repairing and will readvertise for new bids. There will be inserted in the specifications a clause to the effect that the contractors must do any repair work within 48 hours after receiving notice.

It is claimed that this will tend to protect the city from liability for personal injuries received from accidents occurring on streets out of repair. The Empire Asphalt Company was lowest under the old bids.

Henry Bros. & Co. Reinstated.

NEW YORK, May 22.—Henry Brothers & Co., stock brokers, whose suspension followed the decline in what was known as Webb-Meyer stocks early in the present month, were today reinstated to membership in the stock exchange, having met all their obligations.

Carnegie Libraries Promised.

LONDON, May 22.—Andrew Carnegie has promised £10,000 toward the building of several libraries in Greenwich borough.

Local Stocks Became More Active at the Windup, but Were Easier

WINDOW GLASS BROKE SHARPLY AT THE FINISH

The Steel Shares Also Went Off Fractionally Under Selling Orders.

BANK SHARES HIGHER

Many Rumors of Combines and Mergers Denied—Coalers Were Easier—Brewing Common Firm. Electric Seconds Neglected.

PITTSBURGH FEATURES.

Pittsburgh bank exchanges gained $2,152,151 16.

Sales, Pittsburgh stock exchange, 4,479½ shares and $35,000 bonds.

Farmers Deposit National bank advanced to $1,250 bid, a new high record.

First National Bank of Pittsburgh advanced to $498.

Window Glass common broke 1¼ to 58½.

Crucible Steel closed at 22 and the preferred at 85½.

United States Steel common closed at 40¾. The preferred did not sell.

Real Estate Trust advanced $3 to $278; over 200 shares sold.

The coal stocks were dull and easy.

Electric seconds passed without a sale. Airbrake was unchanged at 184½.

The market on the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday opened and continued stagnant until near the close, when some selling pressure stirred up a little activity at the sacrifice of values, losses ranging from ⅛ to 1¼. Until the last hour there was scarcely a feature worthy of comment in the sales, though some little interest was taken in banking quotations. The principal activity was in the steel group, but the most marked weakness appeared in American Window Glass common. For some time this stock has been sorely neglected, small amounts changing hands from time to time within a range of 59⅞ to 60¼. Yesterday it manifested symptoms of returning to life and the bears immediately hammered it. It opened at 59½ and on sales of less than 400 shares broke to 58½, a loss of $1 25 for the day. At the wind-up it was quite weak at 58¼ bid, 58½ asked. The preferred was not dealt in. In the steel group Crucible preferred was the most active, selling nearly 900 shares. It opened at 86 and closed at 85½ sales and offers, a loss of ⅜. The best bid was 85⅝. The common had one sale of 200 shares at 22, a loss of ⅛, but 22 was bid for 500 shares at the close, with regular lots offering at 22⅛. United States Steel preferred did not sell, quoting nominally at 90⅜@90½. The common sold 450 shares, opening at 40¾ and closing ⅜ lower sales and bid, a loss of ⅛.

In the banking issues the feature was an advance of $44 a share in the bid price of Farmers Deposit National bank to $1,250, the highest price at which a local bank stock was ever quoted. Then there was a bid of 136½ for all or any part of 500 shares of United Realty Company, with 10 shares offering at 136⅞. Federal National bank, Fidelity Title and Trust and Safe Deposit and Trust were unchanged. First National bank of Pittsburgh advanced $3 to 498, its previous high record, on sales of 120 shares, and was strong at that price bid for more. Real Estate Trust Company also advanced $3 to 278 and was unusually active, over 200 shares selling. There are many rumors going the rounds of combines, mergers and absorptions by various banks and trust companies, but in each and every case the officials deny that any deal is on. In some cases the advantages of this or that combine have been discussed, only to be laid aside. A prominent promoter is reported to be on a still hunt for options and something is expected to result from his enterprise, but even the officials of the banks themselves, in many instances, never know of his movements until his deals are practically ready for consummation. So denials are made generally with a string, something like this: "Absolutely there is nothing doing today. I cannot tell what the future may develop. We are not even thinking of such a thing now. Tomorrow we might be induced to do so. 'Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof,' " etc., etc.

In the remainder of the list the tone was easier and very little was done. The coalers lost fractionally on small sales. Pittsburgh Brewing common was strong until near the close, when it lost ⅛ of its advance. A small lot of Philadelphia common sold at a gain of ¼ and 200 of the preferred went at a loss of ⅛. Electric seconds did not sell, quoting at 104½@105, and Airbrake was dull and unchanged at 184½. Bonds were firm and fairly active, the demand being quite large.

Financial Drift.

Standard Chain common was 9 bid.

Southern Traction 5s offered at 106½.

Cosmopolitan National bank was 105 bid.

Five Duquesne National bank offered at 280.

The London copper market exhibits increasing strength.

American District Telegraph offered by Carothers at 104.

The buying of St. Paul was on talk of increased dividends.

Commonwealth Real Estate & Trust Company offered at 200.

Colonial Trust Company stock offered at $395 and the rights at $5.

At noon 125 was bid for Central National Bank of Wilkinsburg.

Only five different stocks were dealt in between 12:30 and 2 p. m.

Just before the close Walker bid 22 for 500 Crucible Steel common.

Peoples Trust Company of the South Side offered at 107, 106 being bid.

About 2:30 o'clock Hill & Co. bid 85 for 500 Crucible Steel preferred.

Sproul & Co. bid 24½ for 500 Pittsburgh Coal common near the close.

Pittsburgh, McKeesport & Connellsville Street Railway 5s offered at 100½.

Humphries Miller advanced the bid on Farmers Deposit National bank to $1,250, a new high record; he bid $1,206 at Bayley's auction.

Since last Friday the banks have made a net gain of $618,000 from the sub-treasury.

Pittsburgh & Charleroi Street Railway 5s were quoted at 105¾ bid and 106 asked.

There was some buying of Atchison and Missouri Pacific on the favorable crop news.

Preston, Watt & Schoyer were the principal sellers of American Window Glass common.

The first sale on the board was 100 River Coal common, which was taken by an inside house.

Western interests were active in railroad shares, but were sellers of some of their specialties.

At the opening Mustin offered 500 Marsden at 4 and Sproul offered 500 United States Steel at 40⅝.

Robinson Bros. continued to buy Philadelphia Company preferred, presumably for eastern account.

Orders for $6,000,000 in English consols were sent from New York into the London market Wednesday.

Hayes M. Hisey, floor representative of A. E. Masten & Co., has gone to the lakes on a fishing expedition.

The principal buying of Brewing Company issues was by Hill & Co., the house that promoted the combine.

Humphries Miller and Senator John W. Crawford will go to Milwaukee today to spend Saturday and Sunday.

Wortham wired from New York: A Hebrew friend tells me that Amalgamated Copper will be a second Louisville.

McMullin was the sole seller of Philadelphia Company new 5s, disposing of $32,000 at 105¾. The buying was scattered.

It is reported that United States Steel will show $11,000,000 earned for March, $12,000,000 for April and $13,000,000 for May.

Shortly before the close 136½ was bid for United Realty Trust Company. It offered at 136⅞; Hill & Co. bid for any part of 500 shares.

Near the close $1 50 was bid for several 500-share blocks of Trade Dollar Mining. Then it was bid for 1,000 and $1 60 was bid for 500; 500 offered at $1 70.

The strength of A. C. P. and St. Paul gives the idea that the Standard Oil interests are moving the market. They are known to have been large buyers on the decline.

Near the opening Whitney & Stephenson bid 117 for $50,000 Monongahela River Coal 6s, to be delivered June 1, and 5 per cent interest to be paid on them by the bidders until that time.

The stockholders of the Colonial Trust Company held a special meeting yesterday afternoon and approved the terms of merger with the City Trust Company. The Colonial Trust Company will increase its capital by 5,000 shares of new stock and when the deal is finally completed the capital will be $2,000,000 and the surplus $3,150,000.

Dick of New York said: We hear that the price of copper is to be advanced to 14 cents. This accounts for the buying of Amalgamated which is believed to come from the City bank crowd.

The buying of Real Estate Trust was conspicuous, R. C. Hall taking all (202 shares) that changed hands; Mr. Hall has been a very steady buyer of the stock ever since the company was organised.

Americans were stronger in London and find increased favor there, though the feature in that market was the advance in the Kaffirs on further intimations that peace in South Africa is near at hand.

In relation to the differences between the Pennsylvania and Western Union it is declared that they concern only the two companies in question and do not really denote any serious friction with the Goulds.

McFarlane still offered from 1,000 to 10,000 shares of Consolidated Bonanza Gold Mining Company at $2 40 per share; N. W. Stevenson offered 5,000 at $2 25 and Hill & Co. bid $1 50 for the block; then Stevenson offered 10,000.

Yesterday at noon the members of the Pittsburgh stock exchange voted to close the exchange Friday and Saturday of next week on account of Decoration day. This action has already been taken by the New York and other exchanges of the country.

It is claimed that a combination between Alton and Kansas City Southern is likely to be effected. Another story was that the Chicago Terminal property may be included in or benefited by the Monon deal, with the Southern and L. & N. systems.

A special meeting of the stockholders of the National City Bank of New York to vote upon the increase of capital from $10,000,000 to $25,000,000, will be held June 2. Stockholders have the right to subscribe for one share and a half of the new stock at 150 for each share of their present holdings.

For years Kuhn Bros. have been believers in Lustre Mining and their following has been large. Every once in a while they pick up more stock and yesterday got some at 14. Reports from the mine are more encouraging than ever before and something good may be in store for the stockholders who have waited so long.

At the annual meeting of the Angeline Dock Company yesterday the following directors were elected: James Laughlin, Jr., B. F. Jones, W. W. Willock, H. A. Laughlin, B. F. Jones, Jr., G. M. Laughlin, James B. Laughlin. The board organized as follows: President, James Laughlin, Jr.; vice president, W. W. Willock; secretary and treasurer, John L. Moore; general manager, W. G. Pollock; executive committee, James Laughlin, Jr., B. F. Jones, George M. Laughlin.

A Chicago wire says: The statement is made here that Charles M. Schwab, president of the United States Steel Corporation, is to be made a director in the National Bank of the Republic of this city. The meeting of stockholders is set for June 5. It is also said that the bank is to become the chief western depository for the United States Steel Corporation. The bank is to increase its capital to $2,000,000 at the next meeting of its stockholders.

The following is a complete summary of yesterday's official transactions on the Pittsburgh stock exchange. It shows the change in the closing and selling prices, compared with the last preceding sales, the total sales of each security, the opening, high, low and closing prices and final bids and offers:

Sugar Men Talk of Advance, Pineapples Are Very Plentiful.

Hay, Grain and Feed.

Consumers are becoming interested in the prospect for oats and are seeking information as to the probable future of the market. Local dealers do not see much reason to look for a decline at present, as the receipts, while averaging up to a fairly large amount, are firmly held. There were no quotable changes made in any line yesterday.

Groceries.

It is a significant fact in the flour situation that those jobbers who have been foremost during the past two or three weeks in holding out for the highest figures, are taking a decidely easier view of the market, and have commenced to offer at lower prices. Buying, while fairly good, has not been particularly active for some time, and the weakening of the tone of the market is not surprising, especially as wheat is inclining toward weaker conditions. No change in price has occurred in any other staple, though sugar men are talking very confidently of stronger markets. This is to be expected in fruit season, when the demand is heavy.

Fruits and Produce.

Trade was a little quiet yesterday, but quotations held steady in nearly all departments. Strawberries were a little more plentiful, though not in too large supply, prices ranging from 10 to 12 cents a quart, with a few fancies commanding figures a cent higher, but such sales were very few. Tomatoes are still strong, though a trifle easier than earlier in the week. Potatoes, both old and new, are unchanged.

Butter, Eggs and Cheese.

While receipts of eggs are not heavy, and no dealer has a particularly large supply, there is a continued weakness in the market on account of limited demand. Butter is in the same condition as reported yesterday, stocks accumulating, with prices not much more than nominal. Cheese is very firm, and while coming forward a little more freely, is still unable to keep pace with demand.

Butter—Elgin creamery, prints, 25@25½c; do tubs, 24@24½c; Ohio and Pennsylvania creamery, 22@23½c; dairy butter, 19c; fresh country roll, 18c; cooking butter, 15@16c.

Poultry.

Live chickens are arriving in more liberal quantities this week, but dealers have had their hopes raised so often this season by apparently improved conditions, which have proved to be only temporary, that there is not much belief expressed in permanently increased supplies. Prices are still firm and high, with demand better than for some time.

Chickens—Live hens, per lb., 13@14c; springers, 15@14c; roosters, 7@8c; turkeys, 11@12c; do dressed, 15@18c; hens, dressed, 16@17c; fresh spring dressed, 16@17c; frozen spring broilers, $4 00@4 50 per doz; geese, live, 9@10c; dressed, 12@13c; ducks, live, 12@13c; do dressed, 17@18c.

The earnings of Louisville & Nashville are estimated at 14 per cent on the stock.

The Philadelphia Electric Company declared a dividend of 15 cents, payable June 16.

The gross earnings of 44 roads for the second week in May show an average net increase of 8.61 per cent.

It is stated that the Corn Products directors will declare a dividend on the preferred stock May 28, but nothing on the common.

National Biscuit earnings for the quarter just ended will show about $1,000,000 gross increase over the same period a year ago.

The Wool Market.

LONDON, May 22.—The offerings at the wool auction sales today were all of fine quality. The lot consisted of 14,711 bales. Competition was keen. Scoureds in good condition brought extreme rates. Merinos sold readily to the home trade and the continent. Nearly one-third of the offerings were cross breds. The free supplies of medium and coarse caused an easier tendency. Several lots of today's cross bred were taken for America. Following are the sales in detail: New South Wales, 3,500 bales; scoured, 1s@1s 10½d; greasy, 4½d@1s. Queensland, 2,000 bales; scoured, 11d@1s 8½d; greasy, 4¼d@1s. Victoria, 2,500 bales; scoured, 5½d@1s 8½d; greasy, 3¾d@1s 1d. South Australia, 500 bales; scoured, 8d@1s 4d; greasy, 5@8d. Corn Acted as Steadier in Cereals

TRADING DULL IN THE CHICAGO GRAIN MARKET

Wheat Tumbled to a New Low Level, but There Was Little Trading.

CROPS IN GOOD CONDITION

Reports from the Fields Stated That Favorable Weather for All Grains Had Prevailed Since the Opening of Spring—Oats Fairly Active.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Chicago, May 22.—Wheat worked down to a new level today, but there was not enough activity in many of the markets to make the lower prices attractive, and although wheat was a generally depressing influence, corn steadied prices. July wheat closed ¼c lower, July corn ⅛c lower and July oats ⅛@¼c higher. Provisions closed 2½@5c to 5@7½c higher.

Weather of the same favorable character for all crops as has prevailed almost uninterruptedly since the opening of spring dominated the wheat market at the opening. Cables were lower, the early export demand was slow and conditions began to favor seeding in the northwest. Receipts were still light, but there was argument to the effect that last year's big movement was a result of sweeping bins clean all over the country in anticipation of last year's big crop and that this year's receipts would naturally total much less. For this reason longs had plenty of stuff for sale. As a result July started out weak and at once grew weaker, opening ⅛c to ¼c lower at 74⅛c to 74c and dropping to 73⅝c.

Crops in Good Condition.

Reports from the fields stated that crops were in very good condition, but heading low in some cases. After the early decline the pit ruled very dull. Stop loss orders had come out freely at 74c. Late, as Kansas reported poor prospects in spite of the recent generous rains, and as cash houses told of a very good business at lower figures, the short crowd covered and prices rallied somewhat. July closed weak, ¼c lower at 74c.

Local receipts were 15 cars; Minneapolis and Duluth reported 108 cars, making a total for the three points of 123 cars, against 126 last week and 236 a year ago. Primary receipts were 215,000 bushels, compared to 290,000 bushels last year. Seaboard clearances in wheat and flour equaled only 265,000 bushels. Late the seaboard reported 68 loads taken for export.

Corn trade was uninteresting save that prices held very steady all day. All other conditions favored lower prices; country offerings were larger; seaboard clearances were small and crop prospects were fine.

There was very little demand and trade hung idly, but holders were but little inclined to let go of their stuff. Cables were indifferent. Commission houses sold sparingly and prices eased with wheat, but in the main the market was well held. July sold as low as 61⅞c and closed a trifle easy, ⅛c lower at 62@62⅛c. Receipts were 51 cars.

Oats ruled fairly active and strong. There was some good May buying by the big bull interest, and although there was an early easy tendency the crowd were uneasy over the possibilities of a squeeze in the current option. Cash business was good and there was some news of damage to the growing plant. July sold early at 36⅞c, but reacted and closed firm ⅛@¼c up at 37⅝c. Receipts were smaller at 118 cars.

Provisions were irregular and somewhat active. Early the market was strong in the face of a weak hog market and the declines in grains. Offerings were fairly liberal, but when the pit began to weaken packers jumped into the support and took everything in sight.

Cash Meat Prices Rallied.

Shorts covered, cash meats had a good trade and prices rallied well. July pork closed 5@7½c up at $17 12½@17 15, July lard 2½@5c higher at $10 17½@10 20, and July ribs 5c up at $9 62½@9 65.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 20 cars; corn, 80 cars; oats, 170 cars; hogs, 20,000 head.

PHILADELPHIA COMPANY SHOWS INCREASES.

The report of the Philadelphia Company and affiliated corporations for the month of April was mailed to stockholders by Secretary W. B. Carson last night. It shows a gratifying increase in earnings and surplus. Since the big corporation assumed control of all the street railways it has fortified its position so that it is hoped there will be no dull months. When the receipts from gas companies fall off because of warm weather the increase in railway business more than makes up for the decrease. The full statement is:

MANY DECISIONS HANDED DOWN BY SUPERIOR COURT

Attorney Barton's Appeal in Embezzlement Case Is Refused.

ATTACK JUVENILE COURT

Act Creating It Said to Be Unconstitutional—Man Who Fell Through Bridge While Looking at a Woman Learns the Law.

The April term of the superior court ended yesterday and a number of opinions were handed down. The appeal of Attorney L. C. Barton, sentenced to the workhouse for six months for embezzlement, was refused.

Before adjourning the court heard arguments in the matter of the appeal of Fred Mansfield, a minor, who was sent to the house of refuge from Philadelphia county. The constitutionality of the act establishing a juvenile court was attacked. It is claimed a citizen cannot be taken into court and his case disposed of without trial by jury.

The court affirmed the order of the quarter sessions court of Luzerne county in refusing the application of Andrew Chuga for a liquor license. A remonstrance had been filed against Chuga, but when his application was heard those who filed it failed to appear. The license was refused.

The court says that "it does not necessarily follow that an applicant is entitled to a license as a matter of right because no proof is given of the charges contained in a remonstrance. The license was refused for a legal reason and not arbitrarily."

The question of negligence is spoken of in the case of Alexander Smith against the township of Jackson, in an appeal from judgment of common pleas court of Tioga county.

The plaintiff sues for injuries by being thrown from his wagon by reason of his horse stepping into a hole in a bridge.

The court says that "the law which requires travelers to look where they are going is well settled. Because he had noticed in the morning that a board had been nailed over the hole did not relieve him from the duty to look where he was driving." The judgment is reversed.

Church Loses an Appeal.

The judgment of the lower court was affirmed in the case of the city of Pittsburgh against the trustees of the Third Presbyterian church, an action upon a municipal claim for taxes against a lot of ground on South Negley avenue, owned by the trustees. About 76 feet of the lot is occupied by a chapel and the entire ground is enclosed and used as a lawn. The defendants claim that the lot as well as the chapel is exempt from taxation. The city admits that the chapel is exempt, but demands the tax upon the lot. The question of how much land was exempt was raised in the court below and the defendants claim the court should have determined that.

The court says that it was open to the defendants to raise their contention for exemption either on appeal from assessment or by bill in equity; either procedure would have relegated the question in dispute. The defendants, however, the court continues, preferred to test their rights in common law form and, as the question under evidence became one of fact, they cannot complain that it was submitted to a jury, nor of the result which has followed from such submission.

The right of a party misled by a witness is touched upon in the appeal of A. L. Wickert from the judgment of the Bradford county court, where he was charged with the forgery of a promissory note purporting to have been signed by one Boyer. Boyer on the stand declared the note was not signed by him, but upon cross-examination he contradicted himself.

Justice Overshadows Rules.

In part Presiding Judge Rice says: "That the court which tries the cause should have the power to depart from the ordinary rule in certain cases, is absolutely necessary to prevent a failure of justice, for frequently a party may be compelled to call a witness known to be in the interest of the adverse party, or he may by artifice and fraud, be entrapped into his examination. In such cases the court has always, in the exercise of a sound discretion, allowed the party calling him, to prove that he, at different times and in the presence of other persons, has held different language."

In the per curiam handed down in the case of D. T. Herlihey, for use of Johnson, Earl, McCleary and Myers against S. W. and John Shrader, the court has something to say about the preparation of cases.

In part it is set forth: "Our attention having been called to the fact that the appellants' paper book does not contain the certificates of the judge to the transcript of the evidences printed therein, as required by our rules, we have examined the record and find not only the certificate lacking, but the evidence itself has not been brought up. Further the rule requiring the appellants' paper book to contain a statement of the questions involved, has been utterly disregarded. This rule, which is declared to be in the highest degree mandatory, and admitting no exception, has now been in force long enough to be well understood. For the reasons suggested the appeal will be quashed."

Barton Loses His Appeal.

The appeal of Attorney L. C. Barton from the judgment of the quarter sessions court of this county, in which court he was found guilty of embezzlement, is dismissed. In part the opinion is as follows:

"In the defendant's point the court was asked to charge that investment money upon mortgages of real estate is no part of the business of an attorney-at-law, as such, and therefore, if the money was paid to the defendant as an attorney-at-law to be invested by him, as such, there could be no conviction. The court was clearly right in refusing this point. In Pennsylvania the profession of attorney includes much more than the mere management of the prosecution and the defense of litigated cases. Unquestionably, the professional relation of attorney and client may be established as to the investment of money. Where this relation exists and by virtue of it, money is entrusted to the attorney to be paid to a borrower, or otherwise invested, upon satisfactory security being given, he holds it for safe custody, pending the consummation of the loan or other investment. This is as much a part of his duty as attorney as is the exercise of his judgment upon the legal sufficiency of the security offered. If in the meantime he fraudulently converts the money to his own use, he is guilty of embezzlement as attorney within the true spirit and in[illegible]nt."

LAWYER WILL FIGHT.

A. B. Stevenson Refuses to Leave a Case, Alleging Misconduct on the Part of Police.

A short hearing was held before Judge Shafer in the habeas corpus proceedings for the release of Charles Kennedy, held by the Braddock police upon a charge made by a young woman at High Point, N. C. At the first hearing it was alleged that Kennedy had signed a waiver of requisition papers, but later declared he had signed under a misapprehension.

Chief of Police William Bennett yesterday produced another paper, in which Kennedy declared he was willing to return without requisition papers. It was also stated in the paper that Attorney A. B. Stevenson no longer represented him and that he did not want Jerry Lutz, Lee Layman or Charles Schreiber to prevent his return to North Carolina.

Mr. Stevenson told the court that he would not give up the fight for the release of the young man; that he had reliable information that the police took young Kennedy to visit saloons; that the statement presented must have been secured while Kennedy was under the influence of liquor. This was denied.

Judge Shafer adjourned the hearing until Monday, with the understanding that if the North Carolina officers are not here by that time Kennedy will be released.

DENIES WATER IS FOUL.

Chartiers Water Company Files an Answer to Suit of J. P. Gangwisch.

An affidavit of defense was filed to the bill in equity of John P. Gangwisch against the Chartiers Valley Water Company to compel the defendant to supply more and purer water.

The company says it has made every effort to supply its customers with a sufficient supply of pure water and that what water has been furnished has been pure. It is declared that within four years it has expended $300,000 for improvements and extensions and will expend $750,000 more. It is also alleged that the cost to put water to the height where the plaintiffs' property is located, without the placing of auxiliary pumps, would be from $2,000 to $3,000 a year, while the revenue would only be $1,000.

Will Try Her Own Case.

Mrs. Sarah E. McCloy, who obtained a verdict of $2,500 in a breach of promise suit from the Rev. J. M. Thomas of the Union Baptist church, yesterday appeared in court and informed Judge F. H. Collier that she would be in court Monday to try her own case, a new trial having been granted. Mrs. McCloy said that since her representative, Attorney McElroy, dropped from the case she was unable to obtain another lawyer.

Part of Brain Removed.

David Butler entered suit against the Union Steel Casting Company for $25,000 damages, for alleged injuries received by the bursting of an emery wheel. It is alleged by the plaintiff that as a result of the accident part of his brain was removed, his whole right side paralyzed, his hearing impaired and his speech totally destroyed.

TEACHERS ARE ACQUITTED OF ASSAULTING BOY

Prof. S. S. Baker and Miss Emma Wilson Charged With Cruel Treatment.

PUPIL BROKE THE RULES

Mrs. Margaret Debold Alleged Her Son Was Kicked, Choked and Otherwise Abused, Which Defendants Denied—Judge's Charge.

S. S. Baker, principal of the Crafton schools, and Emma Wilson, a teacher, were yesterday acquitted of assault and battery preferred by Mrs. Margaret Debold of Crafton. They were charged with cruelly beating the prosecutrix's son Harold on February 19.

From the testimony of a number of pupils it appears that a rule had been laid down to the effect that should a pupil miss a certain number of words in spelling he would have to remain after school and write the words missed 500 times.

On February 19 Harold missed four words in spelling and was told to remain after school and write them. He remained, but refused to do as his teacher, Miss Wilson, requested.

Miss Wilson said she tried to make the boy do as he was told by punishing him, but denied that she punished him severely. She said when she found the boy would not obey her she sent for Prof. Baker and he took him by the collar and led him to his office. She said the boy refused to go peacefully and was very stubborn, compelling Prof. Baker to use force.

Prof. Baker said he did not punish the boy more than to shake him.

The prosecution alleged that Prof. Baker kicked, choked and otherwise abused the boy.

In his charge to the jury, Judge Frazer said: "The trouble grew out of a violation of a rule. The directors lay down rules and these rules must be carried out and enforced by those in charge of the school. The boy refused to obey the rule by writing his spelling lesson, and it was the tutor's place to see that the rule was obeyed.

"While the child is in school the teacher acts in the capacity of a parent and has the right to inflict a moderate and reasonable punishment."

A similar case was begun but not completed before Judge Rodgers. William Snyder, a teacher of the Neville Island school, was charged with assault and battery by Howard Miller. He was accused of severely punishing the prosecutor's son, Howard, aged 13, with a gum hose. It was testified that the boy was made to remove his coat and vest and that his back was made black and blue from the blows inflicted. One of the pupils, Della Miller, a cousin of the boy, testified that he deserved punishment and did not think he was punished any too hard.

EDUCATIONAL TEST.

The House Inserts Underwood's Amendment Covering That Point in Immigration Bill.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 22.—The house today resumed discussion of the immigration bill. Almost the entire day was taken up with the amendment offered by Underwood of Alabama requiring an educational test for immigrants.

It was adopted. The bill was laid aside until next week.

The house disagreed to the amendments of the senate to the omnibus public building bill and it was sent to conference.

"Chimes of Normandy."

The Murray-Lane Opera Company changed from grand to light opera at the Empire theater last evening and will for the remainder of the week be heard in Planquette's popular old opera, "Chimes of Normany." The cast last evening was in fine singing mood. Miss Lane as Serpolette sang finely and gave spirit and dash to this, one of her best parts. Mr. Tallman, the young tenor, continued to make friends despite the fact that he sang off key in the armor quintet. Mr. Bowman Ralston's Gaspard was both musically and gramatically an excellent piece of work, as was also Mr. Lane's Henri. The company will close its successful engagement here and at the same time close the regular Empire theater season on Saturday evening. The company goes from Pittsburgh to Denver for a season of summer opera.
